3 Answers to Area Transit Plight Are Told Council

Westbay transit authority experts spent a question packed two hours with the Daly City council Monday outlining three possible answers to the county's mass transportation plight.

The presentation given by the WBRTA team, backed by colorful charts and cost estimates topping $571 million, met with a cool reception from at least two members of the council.

Mayor protem Frank Pacelli said the proposals "require a lot more study" before they are brought before voters in June of next year.

"It's not . . . solid enough. And frankly I'm disturbed about the costs. I see by the charts that costs and inflation are almost the same for a complete system," Pacelli said.

According to John Lilly, Westbay's general manager, capitol outlay costs for plan "D" are estimated at some $322 million. A hedge against inflation during the next two decades has been estimated at an additional $249 million.

"This will be completely unpalatable to voters," Pacelli predicted.

Councilman Tony Giamonna thought the authority should tack the inflation estimates onto each item "not lump inflation costs on the total."

But the consensus among those attending last night's meeting was that the proposals outlined were not the answer to the ills affecting the peninsula.

"The county-wide bus network is needed. On the other hand, you can't expect citizens in the south county to vote for a fixed rail link between Daly City and the airport," Pacelli said.

The transit team headed by Lilly, included Dr. Robert L. Barringer, financial expert from Arthur D. Little, Inc.; Gus Jamart, of De Lew Cather & Company; and Lou Larson, of George Nolte company.

WESTBOROUGH EXTENSION

Another Attempt to Save Stalled Project in S.S.F.

Deadlock On Drain System Maintenance

Another attempt to save the Westborough Boulevard project in South San Francisco was agreed upon last week by the County Board of Supervisors.

A recommendation by County Engineer Don S. Wilson that the project be abandoned was not acted upon in hope that something can be worked out in a meeting scheduled for 3:30 p.m., December 17.

Board Chairman James V. Fitzgerald asked for the meeting, explaining that he had been swamped with phone calls and telegrams from residents who were worried that the vital cross-county road would not be built. Fitzgerald said he was in a mood to junk the project and start all over again but was persuaded by the public outcry to make another try to break the stalemate with South San Francisco officials. The board chairman said he sent a letter to members of the city council, urging them to reconsider.

The deadlock has arisen over demands of the city that a drainage structure under the roadway, the cost of which is being paid by the city, be maintained upon its completion by the county flood control zone. The city served notice that the project would be off unless the demand was met. County Engineer Don S. Wilson said he could not recommend that the condition be met because, although it would not involve much money, it would be against county policy and establish a bad precedent.

"We're going to do everything possible to make it go, and if it doesn't go, it will be because of South San Francisco."

Supervisor Jean Fassler said she has received many phone calls from Pacifica residents who are "extremely concerned" that the road might not be built.

"We have to make at least another effort," she said.

"The county has compromised as far as it can go," member Robert St. Clair said. "We have been impeded every step of the way by South San Francisco. And now they've put in this one condition that is obviously impossible for us to meet."

END OF THE ROAD? — The new Westborough Boulevard in South San Francisco stops abruptly at Junipero Serra, and, unless city and county officials agree upon the question of who will maintain drainage facilities to be built in connection with the project, this intersection may indeed be the "end of the road." Councilmen and county supervisors will hold a joint meeting this week in another attempt to resolve their differences over the $1 million project. (Post Photo)

San Bruno Teens Eye City Building

The feasibility and the availability of using a city-controlled building behind the Crestmoor region fire station for a youth center is to be studied by San Bruno City Manager Gerard Vergeer.

Vergeer, though absent from Monday night's meeting of the city council because of illness, was directed to make those explorations after Councilman George Corey summarized a recent meeting of the Park and Recreation Commission at which a group of teen-agers continued to prod the city for a youth center.

Corey initially sought to have the city manager probe the possibility of removal of items currently stored in the 75-by-50 foot building to make room for teen-ager use.

This would have been followed by a feasibility report.

However, Councilman Maurice Hamilton questioned whether or not the city was in a position to remove the stored items, since he undersood they include emergency hospital supplies and equipment.

It was Hamilton's further recollection that San Bruno was required to have the structure in order to obtain the medical stores from the federal government.

With other councilmen sharing the belief, it might be that the city is not in a position to abandon the storage facility for use by the teen-agers.

This is the primary area into which Vergeer must take a knowledgeable look.

Corey, in relaying the P&R business, noted that the bulk of the youngsters attempting to gain the center attend Crestmoor High School.

Other potential sites, including the Bell Aire district fire station have not been ruled out completely. Corey indicated teens in the area attend Crestmoor and would have "no objection" to that location, if necessary.

The teen-agers have in mind a neighborhood youth center, Corey reminded; not one that is some distance away from those who have expressed a desire to have it.

Such a center, he explained, in relaying the desires of the teeners as presented to the commission, would presumably be set up, planned and operated by teen-agers themselves, with the necessary adult supervision.

The teens want "the greatest say," he explained.

The City's role would be that of providing suitable quarters for the teen-agers' activities, he pointed out.

In another report on the P&R, Corey passed on a belief that municipal efforts to combat poison oak at Buckeye Grove should be intensified.

Additionally, Corey said the Mainliners, an airport-based lit-

Council OKs Use of Home As an Office

A Pacifica realtor rebuffed twice by the city's planning commission in his efforts to move an office into a private residence won a reversal Monday from the city council.

Councilmen voted 3-2 to rezone a parcel on Linda Mar Boulevard from "R-1" residential to an "O" office district to allow realtor Thomas Wisbey to install his office in a house.

Wisbey has maintained that his present of ifcsite at the intersection of Linda Mar Boulevard and the Coast Highway will be purchased soon by the Division of Highways in connection with a road widening project.

He first appealed to planning commissioners for the resoning last June. Commissioners denied the request, and forwarded their recommendation to the council.

Councilmen returned the application to the planning commission for "further review,"

DISPUTE FLARES ANEW

Demand for Salary Boost, Benefits by D.C. Firemen

City Earlier Had Rejected Most Requests

That pay dispute between Daly City officials and fire department employes flared anew today in the wake of a 23-page "reply petition" filed by firemen's attorney Richard E. Herndon last week.

Herndon's reply came two weeks after City Manager Edward Frank all but snuffed out the firemen's original request for pay parity with police and modification of certain working conditions within the department, including a shorter work week and more men.

In the latest exchange of petitions, Herndon demanded that a five per cent across-the-board pay boost be given all firemen effective January 1, 1969 and the present 63-hour work week be whittled down to 60 hours.

Effective July 1 of next year, firemen want action on 11 demands submitted to the City Council. The demands include a cost of living pay raise; reduction of the work week down to 56 hours, and an increase in manpower "to an adequate level pursuant to recommendations of the fire chief (Herb Ritzmann).

City manager Frank had earlier brushed aside most of the firemen's demands, especially in the area of manpower, saying the cost to homeowners could not justify such an increase in personnel (about 18 new men) and he further pointed out that Daly City's structural hazards were so minimal that most of the requests were not justified.

But Herndon ripped into Frank's reply to the council, calling it "inadequate" and one that was "rank with errors and inaccurate and slanted statistics."

"The purpose of our petition has not been to engage in adversary and non-constructive arguments with the city manager; rather, we have sought . . . to point out to the city council that

Meeting Is Planned

Pacifica Indicates It Favors Chopper Plan

Pacifica councilmen, almost alone among North County officials, have approved, in theory at least, a proposal for the inauguration of a county-wide helicopter patrol.

Mayor Nick Gust and members of the council Monday instructed City Manager C. W. Masonheimer to meet with county officials to discuss the plan proposed several weeks ago by County Manager E. R. Stallings.

"I would like to lend all my support to pursuing the matter," Gust said. "This is going to be the police patrol method of the future, and we might as well begin to make preparations."

Councilman Harland Minshew pointed out that "high speed pursuit" has already become a virtual impossibility in Pacifica and other cities because of crowded traffic conditions.

"Some sort of airborne police unit appears to be the only solution," Minshew said.

Pacifica has a special interest in the helicopter service because of its proximity to the Pacific Ocean.

"If this service could be provided on the county level, it would no longer be necessary to send to Alameda for rescce helicopters when we have emergencies at sea near Pacifica," Masonheimer said.

Most North County city officials expressed little enthusiasm for the project when it was first proposed several weeks ago, stating the helicopter service would "cost more than it would be worth."

In a second letter to Pacifica officials last week, Stallings asked for an "expression of interest" in the project, without the consideration of probable cost.

The county manager and other officials have proposed the helicopter patrol as a means to reduce school vandalism throughout the county, as well as an important "law enforcement tool" in general.

Councilman's Father Dies; D.C. Pioneer

Daly City pioneer John H. Dennis died Sunday following a long illness. He was 92.

Dennis, father of Daly City Councilman Edward J. Dennis, first came to the Daly City-Colma area in 1898. In 1902 he became superintendent of the Union-Coursing Park, presently the Jefferson Union High School property.

In the years between 1907-1916 he was Roadmaster of the First Supervisoral District and was responsible for building the original San Pedro Road linking Daly City with the coastside.

A former superintendent of the old Tanforan Race Track in San Bruno, Dennis later became chief of police at the Bel Air Shipyards in South San Francisco during World War Two. He retired from that post following the war.

His wife of 53 years, Anna Adele, died nine years ago.

He is survived by five children; Mrs. Dorothy White, of San Mateo; John R. Dennis Jr., of Daly City; Robert M. Dennis, of Valley Forge; George C. Dennis of Novato; and Edward J.

He is also survived by eight grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

Site for Motorcycle Activities Sought

Representatives from the Coastside Motorcycle Club in Pacifica have appealed to the city council for assistance in obtaining a location for hill climbs, dirt rides, and other cycling activities.

In a letter to the council this week, William Huff, president of the club, asked city officials to provide an area for the motorcyclists' activities "instead of issuing a blanket ban."

The motorcyclists are concerned about a city ordinance providing that hill riders must obtain permission from property owners before indluginy in their hobby inside the city limits.

According to City Manager C. W. Masonheimer, the issue is "primarily a question of trespassing."

"The city ordinance does nothing more than require the usual owner's permission ti utilize property," he said.

However, Robert Young, vice club, said members have run into a problem involving insurance.

"Landowners refuse to allow us to ride on their property because of the liability they would incur," he said. "If it were not for the insurance problem, we would have no trouble gaining

New Police Position On Coast Asked

Pacifica Police Chief Neil Tremaine has asked the mayor and council to establish a new "police technician" position in his department.

In a memorandum to the council this week, Tremaine asked that a police technician be hired instead of a replacement for policewoman Madeline Ambrosius, who resigned recently.

"The police technician plays an increasingly important role in modern police work," the chief said.

He has stated the new position is more vitally needed" than a policewoman replacement. The department now has two policewomen, but not technician, according to City Manager C. W. Masonheimer.

Duties affiliated with the new post would include the "collection, preservation and examination of physical evidence," procedures necessary in all felony cases, and many misdemeanor cases, according to the chief.

Councilmen postponed action on the request Monday because of the chief's absence. Tremaine was absent because of illness, Masonheimer said.

Opposition Voiced

Pacifica Council Approves Underground Utility Plan

A number of Pacifica residents voiced opposition to the formation of 11. "underground utility districts" in the city Monday, but councilmen approved the long-term project by a unanimous vote.

The council action will make available utility company funds for removing overhead poles, wires and related structures in "commercial and especially scenic areas of the city" over a long period of time.

The 11 districts approved Monday will mark the first areas in the city where existing utility lines have been removed and placed underground, though some of the newer subdivisions were built with underground utilities.

The project was approved in accordance with the State Public Utilities Commission policy which requires utility companies to make available funds for the undergrounding of lines in each California city.

Councilmen noted it will be "several years" before the work is undertaken, and there is not now enough money in the fund allocated to the city by utility companies to "underground even one block."

"One or two" of the 11 districts will be designated as priority areas in the future, and these districts will be completed first, according to city officials.

A number of residents objected to the project because of the cost which must be borne by property owners when the utilities are placed underground.

According to Pacific Gas and Electric Co. representative Don Halverson, property owners will be required to bear the cost of switching the location of their meters. The utility companies will pay for trenching and relocation of lines.

One homeowner, Emory Lebonville, objected to the project "on basic principle."

"The state law which provides the money for underground districts should be exchanged for one which would

Police to Get 12 New Cars

Bids for 12 new police cars ftom the James E. Donahue Company were approved by the Daly City council Monday.

Total for the special vehicles, equipped with power windows, was $27,462.59.

Donahue also was awarded bid for four sedans ($3,440.91), a four-door station wagon ($2,391.18), and a compact station wagon ($2,083.31).

Westlake Dodge was awarded bids for a compact van ($2,786.79); two half-ton pickup trucks ($2,318.77) and ($2,289.47).

Power Outage In Daly City

Two thirds of Daly City was blacked out at the height of a windstorm shortly before midnight Monday night.

Cause of the power outage, which lasted some 30 minutes, was failure of a transformer at PG&E's Orange Avenue substation in the city.

D.C. Increases Dog Tag Fees

Cost of being on friendly basis with man's best friend jumped $1 Monday in Daly City.

At the request of the county, the Daly City council set the wheels in motion to pass a new law increasing canine fees for males and unspayed females to $4 per year.

The added revenues will hopefully offset an operating deficit presently being experienced by the Peninsula Humane Society, the council was informed.

Daly City Is 'Model' In Aiding Poor

The Rev. Howard Bryant Monday presented the annual report of the Information and Referral Center to the Daly City council during its regular meeting at the Civic Center.

Bryant, in making the presentation, called Daly City "a model city for the entire state" because of the involvment of both private and public bodies in the programs aimed at helping the city's underprivileged.

"This is a significant thing . . . this involvement of an entire city," Bryant said.

The annual report not only pointed out various "targets" the center would be helping in the coming months, but accomplishments during the past year, as well.

our wages, fringe benefits and working conditions do not measure up when compared with other departments in the San Francisco-Oakland metropolitan area," Herndon said.

Herndon said cost of implementing firemen's demands was "negligible and the funds available."

Strongest hit in Herndon's reply was Daly City's manning of fire equipment in the city — the same subject both Ritzmann and the American Insurance Association have found to be inadequate (the last AIA inspection report reveals that of the 616 deficiency points given out in 34 categories, 233 were for undermanning of fire equipment, Herndon charged).

A recent two-alarm blaze involving a Mission Street motorcycle shop was cited as an example of what could hamper the firefighting capabilities of the Daly City department.

On November 11, 20 men and five pieces of equipment were dispatched to the fire. Nine volunteers were called on the second alarm and only three answered the alarm. The firm suffered an estimated $50,000 loss.

"What would have happened if another major fire had broken out at the same time in Daly City?" Herndon asked, adding "what equipment and what personnel would have responded to the (subsequent) alarm?"

Herndon is expected to continue his argument before the city council at its regular meeting tonight at the Daly City Civic Center.

Voting to reverse the commission's decision and grant the zoning change Monday were Councilmen Harland Minshew, Dan Modena and Rick Wallis. Mayor Nick Gust and Councilwoman Grace McCarthy voted against the zoning change.

Wisbey said Monday he expects the Division of Highways to purchase his present office site in the near future. The property, which Wisbey leases from the owner, has already been condemned for the highway project.

tle theatre group, has indicated it would like San Bruno participation — not financial per se — in its efforts to become more active in that community.

Councilmen — including Corey — thought the Mainliners should be urged to submit in detail exactly what they have in mind in the way of a San Bruno agreement for participation.

Corey said any immediate action by the city appeared "a little premature."

He said he was hesitant to enter into too-binding an agreement with an outside - the - city organization.

In the past, councilmen recalled, when a little theatre unit was active in the community, city recreation department sponsorship, to an extent, was desirable if the organization were to gain use of certain public facilities, such as the Crestmoor High School auditorium.

The Mainliners, according to preliminary information — as Corey said he understood it — included primarily "just assurance" that sets would be transported (by the city) to the auditoriums in which plays would be performed.

Corey indicated, also, that any profits that might be received in ticket sales would be routed to the recreation city's recreation funds.

Corey declared that recreation commissioners had indicated a desire to "foster interest" in, and the return of little theatre to San Bruno.

permission from several property owners.

Young suggested that the city provide a designated area for cyclist activities "to avoid forcing riders to use the playgrounds and city streets."

Mayor Nick Gust and council members instructed Masonheimer to arrange a meeting between motorcycle club representatives and the police and park, beach and recreation de-' partments to discuss possible solutions to the problem.

Bruno Council Hit On Animal Control

Ralph Corral, a San Brunan who makes a point of attending most San Bruno City Council meetings, Monday demanded enforcement of local dog ordinances, charging his 4-year-old daughter was "viciously charged" by a canine near City Park.

Corral said the girl recently had been "attacked" on her way to the park, which is two blocks from her home.

He said he was concerned "for the safety of my family," and wanted to know why San Bruno police failed to do more than refer him to the Peninsula Humane Society for action.

Councilmen explained that the city's policy is to leave dog law enforcement to the Humane Society. Corral said he wanted councilmen to investigate animal control.

Corral declared he had called the Humane Society "numerous times" without response in the past.

City Attorney Joe Galligan asserted that budgetary problems had beset the Humane Society, just as they had other agencies in government, but recent state legislation allowing dog license fee boosts would now allow addition of personnel to cope with the problem.

In that regard, councilmen Monday night approved at its second reading an ordinance that would increase its canine licensing fees.

Galligan said he expected animal controls to be more effective as a result.

lower everybody's utility rates," Lebonville said.

"This would benefit all the residents, and not just those who live in the selected districts."

Another homeowner said he could not see that undergrounding the utility lines would "benefit my health, safety and welfare," as stated in the proposal for establishing the districts.

Councilman Rick Wallis said he felt the small property owners who must pay for switching their meters will be "more than made up by increases in property values resulting from the undergrounding."

Early in September, Linda Mar's Wander Inn was closed to reelect a new Youth of Pacifica Council, and to repair the old building. Three long months of hard work later, the Wander Inn has reopened to provide or YOP members place to call their own.

The building has changed from white to blue, and as of yet there is no identification sign. (There will be an election held to rename the center in the near future). A patio was built in back, the old bar was torn out and refreshments are provided through vending machines: candy, cold drinks, coffee, hot chocolate, and soup. There are two television sets now, color, and black and white. Other features are: pool table, pin-ball machines, checkers, cards, and juke box.

Saturday night will be the grand opening of the Wander Inn. A band will be provided for entertainment as well as the regular games. Teen-aged residents of Pacifica may buy YOP cards at the door for $1. This card entitled its owner to entrance to the Wander Inn any hours while it's open, a voice in the actions of the YOP council, and discounts in all YOP activities. All card holders are entitled to a guest for all activities.

The schedule for the Wander Inn is as follows: Tuesdays, 3 p.m. to 10 p.m.; Fridays, 3 p.m. to 12; Saturdays, 12-12; and Sundays, 12 to 7 p.m. All members and their guests are welcome.

Club Reorganized

PACIFICA YOUTHS — Council members of the reorganized Youth of Pacifica club took time off from their work in remodeling the Wander Inn for a game of checkers last week. The teen club reopened last Saturday, with new officers and a panel of adult supervisors overseeing the operation.

Refuse Rate To Be Hiked In South S.F.

South San Francisco Scavenger Company spokesmen proposed a collection rate increase of 70 cents per month for the average residential customer utilizing their servce Wednesday night, to cover the added cost of trucking garbage to the San Francisco dump in Brisbane.

William J. Calegari, a partner in the scavenger firm, told councilmen an increase from $1.50 to $2.20 per month for the average residential customer will be necessary to meet the expense of trucking garbage to the Sierra Point dump.

In addition to the increase for residential users, scavengers have proposed an increase of nearly $10,000 per year in the rate charged for removal of tree limbs and trimmings removed for the city.

The monthly fee for this service would be increased from $1,800 to $2,600 under the proposal.

Mayor Frank Bertucelli and council members instructed the scavengers to "take another look at the rate schedule" at a study session Wednesday night, and voiced strong opposition to the drastic increases.

The council voted Monday to allow dumping operations at a 29-acre tideland site owned by Sunset Scavengers in the city in order to alleviate a dumping crisis.

Broadmoor Church Sets Yule Event

The annual Sunday School Christmas program is to be held at 7 p.m. Sunday at the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church, 377 Eighty-seventh Street.

The public is invited to sing carols, view the Christmas story scenes, hear the children and youth sing and recite, and view a brief version of "The Christmas Carol", by Dickens, put on by the junior high youth.

Candy treats are given out after the program.

General superintendent of the Sunday school, Jack Sheets, along with assistant, Marjie McBride, are in charge. Others of the thirty teachers and officers will also be helping.

At the Sunday morning worship services at 9:30 and 11, the sermon subject is "A Man From Nazareth", as preached by the pastor, the Rev. Herbert C. Tweedie.

The choir will sing, "Come to Bethlehem", and soloist Irene Stephen will render "O Holy Night". Infant care and Sunday school are provided both morning hours.

D.C. YULE PROGRAM

The Daly City Recreation Department will host the annual Christmas Festival December 19 at the War Memorial Community Center, 6655 Mission Street, at 8 p.m.

The children will present a popular Christmas story, complete with singing, dancing, tableaus, and gymnastics.

Home Ablaze, Daly City Man Rescued by Fireman

A Daly City fire captain carried unconscious Steven Liggins, 34, to safety Sunday after Liggins collapsed in his bedroom, apparently having failed in an attempt to extinguish a hot and smoky blaze that flared up in the living room of his Westline Drive residence.

When he arrived at Liggins' 39 Westline Drive home shortly after 9:30 p.m., Fire Capt. Don Campbell entered the house, found Liggins fully clothed in his bedroom and carried him outside, where resuscitation efforts to revive him were successful.

Liggins was taken to Mary's Help Hospital, where a spokesman said he was in "fair condition," having suffered smoke inhalation and second-degree burns on the hands and face.

The victim was semiconscious, fire department battalion chief Frank Specht said, when an ambulance rushed him to the hospital.

Liggins was alone in the house.

Specht said the fire apparently started in a chair in the living room, then spread to other furnishings, carpeting and walls.

Although flame was confined to the living room, there was "considerable" heat and smoke damage throughout the home.

"I haven't seen a fire that hot for sometime," Specht said, explaining that living room wall paneling was burned and plastic items in adjacent areas were melted.

Specht said Liggins apparently had tried to put out the fire himself. But, failing in that, he evidently retreated to his bedroom, where he grabbed a wooden chair and smashed out a window.

Whether he was attempting to get some fresh air or to flee the home was not known by fire officials, Specht declared.

Captain Campbell found the stool halfway out the window when he entered the bedroom, Specht said.

"It's hard to say definitely," Specht pointed out, but the captain's getting in there like that probably saved his life."

Specht thought the firemen who responded to the alarm made "a good stop." He believes that "in five or ten more minutes the whole thing would have been a mass of flames.

Unofficial damage estimates placed the structural damage at $4,500, and furnishings, $3,000.

2 Oceana Students Win Outstanding Teen Awards

Two students at Pacifica's Oceana High School have been selected as "Outstanding Teen-agers of America," Dr. Robert Watt, principal at the school, announced this week.

Chosen to represent the school in the national competition were Dave Morton, Joseph Nuttal and Barbara Stickney.

Nominated by school officials, the three local teen-agers will compete for state and national awards in the "Outstanding Teen-agers of America" program.

They will compete with other winners in California for the Governor's Trophy awarded each year to an outstanding teen-ager.

The recipients were selected upon the basis of "ability and achievement," according to Dr. Watt.

Driver Hurt

Hubert J. Van Giersbergen, 27-year-old mechanic of 1018 Grand Teton Drive, Pacifica, was injured early Sunday when his car flipped over on Cabrillo Highway in Pacifica and slid 360 feet on its top.

Highway patrolmen said Van Giersberger was driving southbound at 12:15 a.m. when his sedan skidded out of control as it went into a curve. The pavement was wet, officers said.

THE STORAGE SPACE PROBLEM

Hard-pressed for storage space, for room to put your things? Almost everyone is, whether they are in a small apartment or a large home. Storage units, and cabinets and room dividers are so extremely flexible in size, finish, style and are so simple to arrange that they can usually find a place in some form in almost any room.

These units can range all the way from simple wall shelves to handsome cabinets and can handle all of your storage and display problems. They serve as book shelves, collector's displays, TV, hi-fi and radio space and the trillion-and-one other things which no one ever has enough room for.

The best part of it is that they very often put a useless wall to work and take a minimum of space in so doing. Furthermore, with proper planning they can make a great thing of beauty out of a wall that was nothing before.

If selected and used properly, wall units will make a small room seem larger or break up the overspaciousness of a very large room.

Some add-what-you-like units have built-in chests, desks, serving tables, magazine racks and even self-contained lighting. They are also available for both sides of a wall including corner cabinets.

We are ready, willing and able to solve your storage or any other furniture or decorating problem.

Plan Ahead For Holiday Viet Calls

Families who have relatives stationed in Vietnam were advised by Pacific Telephone today to plan ahead if they wish to talk with them during the holiday season.

The telephone company also announced that a lower calling rate to Vietnam went into effect December 1 in time for Christmas season calls.

The new station-to-station rates will save U.S. customers $121,000 yearly, according to the company.

The station rate for the first three minutes is $9. Each additional minute will be $3. Person-to-person rates will remain the same at $12 for the first three minutes. But each additional minute has been lowered from $4 to $3.

In most instances it is easier for a serviceman to call home than for his family to try reaching him in Vietnam, according to the telephone company. Servicemen should notify their families in advance if they expect to telephone home, particularly during the holidays.

More than 38,000 calls were completed between the U.S. and Vietnam last year, four and a half as many as in 1965. But most of the calls were completed from the Vietnam end, rather than from the U.S., because of the difficulty of licating servicemen when calls come in form the states.

When a call is received in Saigon every effort is made to locate the serviceman. However, travel restrictions and curfews imposed in Saigon have complicated the difficulty of locating servicemen. For this reason when a call is made to Vietnam it is important for the caller to have the serviceman's unit, his APO number and, if possible a telephone number where he can be reached.

Two Hurt As Cars Collide In Daly City

Two persons were injured in a two car collision at a Daly City intersection Sunday.

Both victims — Jaime R. Lopez, 18, of 3921 California Street, San Francisco, and Edward W. Streegan, 18, of 264 Edgewood Drive, Pacifica — were riding in a car that collided with a vehicle driven by Gary L. Grant, 32, of 2320 Tipperary Street, South San Francisco at the corner of Hickey and Gellert boulevards.

A spokesman at Mary's Help Hospital said both men were treated for cuts and bruises and admitted for observation.

Credit Card Leads to Jail On 2 Charges

Eugene E. Pitts, 24, and Don Richardson, 23, both of San Francisco were arrested Wednesday by San Bruno police after Pitts allegedly attempted to make a liquor transaction on an altered BankAmericard.

Pitts, of 505 Faxton Avenue, Apartment 5, was arrested on the credit card charge, while his campanion, Richardson, of 644 Garfield, was booked on a narcotics charge.

Police said Pitts attempted to purchase some liquor and cigarettes at Obbie's Liquors, 189 El Camino Real, San Bruno, using a credit card on which the name Winston Chins appeared. He used a draft card issued in the same name for collaborating identification.

However, liquor store clerk, William L. Wited, 36, declined to make the sale on the card to Pitts, and called police after Pitts and Richardson left the premises.

Whited obtained the license number and further furnished police with a description of the auto in which the two suspects drove off.

Later, near the San Bruno-Millbrae line, Patrolman Thomas Mathers stopped the vehicle. The officer arrested Pitts on the credit card charge, and, after allegedly finding marijuana in Richardson's possession, booked him on a narcotics count.

San Brunan Battles Two Officers at His Home

A family dispute Wednesday led to the arrest of a San Bruno man on charges of assaulting an police officer and resisting arrest, San Bruno police reported.

Taken into custody after a scuffle with two San Bruno policemen was Walter J. Peterson, 25, of 115 Santa Helena Avenue.

A spokesman for the San Bruno police department said Peterson's wife, Diana, 24, had called police from a Millbrae address at 6:20 p.m., asking for an escort to her San Bruno residence from which she said she intended to remove her personal property.

Police patrolmen William Martin and Thomas Mathers responded to 328 Anita Drive, Millbrae, and provided Mrs. Peterson with the escort back to San Bruno.

The officers charged, Peterson punched 26-year-old patrolman Martin in the face, knocking him to the floor of a back porch, and a fray ensued, with Martin and Mathers finally subduing the man.

Daly City Insurance Man Is Shot at Hunter's Point

A Daly City man was shot and critically wounded while working Wednesday in the Hunters Point District of San Francisco.

Dennis J. Keegan, 35, of 796 Highgate Drive, was shot in the head and robbed by two assailants in front of 377 Harbor Road about 6:25 p.m., according to San Francisco police.

An agent for the American National Insurance Company, Keegan had been collecting premiums from customers in the area prior to the shooting.

He was conscious when police arrived at the scene, and described his assailants, two Negro males, before being taken to Mission Emergency Hospital.

Officers said Keegan was apparently shot while sitting in his parked automobile. A window of the car was broken, and there were bloodstains upon the seat.

He was lying upon the ground near the car when police arrived.

His trouser pockets were turned inside out, officers said, and his wallet was missing. However, $200 in cash and several checks in an inside pocket were overlooked by the robbers.

Spokesmen at San Francisco General Hospital said Keegan was alert and able to speak after undergoing "exploratory cranial surgery," and his condition was described as satisfactory on Monday.

Jaycees In 2 Cities Study Leadership

The Millbrae-San Bruno Jaycees began a leadership training program at their November meeting with Paul Dock, national director, California Jaycees, explaining the program in depth.

The program was authored by an institute specifically for young men in the Jaycee organization. Robert Proctor, president of the local Jaycee chapter, presides over the program, which consists of eight one-hour sessions.

The course is designed "to train the young man of today for the leadership ability he will need in the future toward personal improvement."

All young men interested in a program such as this are welcome, and may call John Cadigan, Bob Proctor or Ed Nightingale.

SSF Teacher Guilty In Coast Riots

South San Francisco school teacher Clark Natwick was found guilty of resisting arrest in North County Municipal Court Friday on charges stemming from last summer's Linda Mar Shopping Center riots.

Natwick's attorney, Gerald Levitin, immediately moved for a new trial, and a hearing on the motion was set for 10:30 a.m. January 10.

Natwick, 36, was among 35 persons arrested during the shopping center disturbances last July 28 and 29. Several other adults have already been tried on charges stemming from the riots, and a number of teen-agers were turned over to juvenile authorities.

Natwick will remain free on bail until the hearing on the motion for a new trial.

Werner Snyder, Rabbi Solomon Shore, Wolf Schlesinger will receive awards for congregation B'nai Israel.

Congregation B'nai Israel, Rabbi to Receive Awards

The government of Israel, through the State of Israel Bonds Organization, will present the Israel Service Award to Congregation B'nai Israel and the Jerusalem Award to Rabbi Solomon A. Shore at a reception Sunday.

The congregation will be honored for its response to the crisis of the Six-Day War and Rabbi Shore for his lifetime of service to the Jewish people and the upbuilding of Israel through the State of Israel Bonds Program.

Chairman of the reception, Warner Snyder, announced that Rabbi Burton Mindick will appear as guest speaker and Cantor Martin Feldman will perform in a recital of Jewish music.

Since this is the first night of Chanukah, Cantor Henry Greenberg will light the traditional First Candle in the Menorah.

The affair will be held at the Temple at 7:30 p.m.

Greenwood Wins Vote of Confidence

Superintendent Frank Greenwood won what amounted to a "vote of confidence" from Jefferson Elementary School District trustees in Daly City last week, receiving a six per ent salary increase and an offer for a new four-year contract.

Greenwood, who has been administrative head of the sometimes stormy and strife-torn district since 1966, was awarded an annual salary of $25,500 at last night's board meeting.

The superintendent turned down the board's offer of a four-year term, choosing to accept a two-year contract which "can be re-negotiated upon expiration."

Greenwood's salary for the past year was $24,000.

Aides Got Hikes

The district's two associate superintendents, Dr. Vincent Stratton and Roger Barthuli, also received salary increases Tuesday.

The associate superintenent's salaries were hiked from $22,500 to $23,750.

In other business at the board meeting, trustees adopted the district negotiating council's recommendation for a change in one of the teacher health insurance carriers.

The Fireman's Fund group overage was dropped and replaced with a Blue Cross group plan. Teachers now have a choice between Kaiser and Blue Cross coverage.

The change was made because of a rate increase instituted by the Fireman's Fund Co.

Trustees postponed action on a problem arising from the proposed dental insurance coverage for district teachers.

According to Greenwood, premiums for the dental plan approved by the board last month have increased from $5.50 to $6.12 per employe per month during the past few weeks.

He suggested that the district bear the full cost of the coverage, but have it take effect January 1, a month later than scheduled, to compensate for the extra premium cost.

Under this proposal, the district would actually save about $1,000 this year.

Trustees will take up the matter at their next regular meeting.

Jefferson Trustee Noonan Resigns Elementary Post

Veteran Jefferson Elementary School District Trustee Thomas Noonan resigned last Tuesday, bringing the total number of district board resignations since the last election to three.

When Noonan's replacement is appointed, probably before January 1, a majority of the district's trustees will be non-elected officials.

The next board election is scheduled for April, 1969.

Noonan, in announcing his resignation Tuesday, indicated he had "wanted to resign earlier," but stayed on the board because of the turmoil created in the district by a threatened teacher work slowdown.

First elected to the board in 1958, Noonan said he is giving up his post because of pressing business duties. He is an employe of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Noonan has served as chairman of the board of trustees on several occasions during his ten-year tenure, most recently during the 1967-68 fiscal year.

In addition to his school board activities, he has served as a Democratic central committeeman for the county, and launched several unsuccessful campaigns for city and county offices.

He is a member of the County Committee on School Reorganization, a group formulated to study unification. He will remain in this post after the board resignation takes effect January 1, or "whenever a replacement is appointed."

Board Chairman Tomasello and other trustees accepted Noonan's resignation "with regrets" Tuesday, and a representative of the Jefferson Classroom Teachers' Association read a prepared statement commending the retiring trustee for his service and contributions to the district.

Finds Color TV Sitting In Her Driveway

A South San Francisco woman returned from shopping last Tuesday, and found her color television sitting in the driveway of her home.

Police said Mrs. Caroline Noonan, 632 Spruce Avenue, reported her house was ransacked and the television set was carried into the front yard by a burglar who was apparently frightened away by neighbors.

Several small items were taken from the house, and the front door knob was twisted off by the daytime burglar between 11 a.m. and 2 p.m., police said.

Another daylight burglary occurred at the Longford Drive residence of Lloyd T. Escuda Tuesday, officers said.

The house was entered while occupants were away, and a portable radio, movie camera and wig were taken. Total value of the property taken was estimated at $220.

Entrance to the house was gained by forcing a rear window.

Sometime Monday, the home of George Giannelli, 3301 Oakmont Drive, was broken into.

Rainbows Set Pot Luck

San Bruno Rainbow Assembly's next meeting will be on December 15, and will feature a family pot luck dinner starting at 6 p.m.

The girls will go to the Masonic Home at Union City for caroling, returning to the adviser's home for their annual Christmas party. An initiation of new members is planned for December 23.

Santa Claus' SSF Impact

Santa Claus' entrance into South San Francisco last weekend made a big impact on the lives of hundreds of youngsters as he made his way around town giving out candy and cheery greetings to everyone.

South San Francisco's Recreation and Park Department and Chamber of Commerce combined to put on Santa Claus' Arrival Day for the third year. The annual event signifies the opening of the Christmas season and marks Santa Claus's first official visit to South San Francisco.

Santa arrived on the City Hall balcony to the accompaniment of the California Kingsman Drum and Bugle Corps, directed by Robert Bridges Jr., and hundreds of colorful helium filled ballons rising skyward toward Daly City.

The tour went from shopping center to shopping center and the same scene was repeated again and again. Kids flocked to the man in red as he passed out his candy and cheery ho, ho, ho's. The youngsters also told Santa of their Christmas wishes as they sat on his lap and stared into his whiskered face.

Many youngsters paid a visit to Santa at the Magnolia Recreation Center where they got a chance to sit on his lap and talk a while with him. The tour concluded when Santa picked up his red bag and excused himself to head back to the North Pole so he could get things ready for Christmas eve.

Robbery In Daly City

A Daly City service station was robbed Thursday by a man who used a .45-caliber automatic to force attendant James R. Miller, 22, to hand over $80 in cash.

The suspect, described as in his twenties and of medium build, then drove away from Marsilis Mobil Station at 6831 Mission Street.

Peninsulan Attends National Scholar Fete

Mrs. Carolyn Bjorklund returned recently from New York, where she represented South San Francisco High School at the annual meeting of the College Scholarship Service Assembly and the College Entrance Examination Board.

South San Francisco High School has just been elected to a three-year membership in the College Scholarship Service Assembly, the organization which influences many of the nation's collegiate policies and procedures for the granting of financial aid for higher education.

South San Francisco High secondary schools chosen from School was one of the individual the Western Region and elected to membership in the 1968 meeting. South City shares its honor with a high school in Hawaii, one in Wyoming and three in Southern California.

Mrs. Bjorklund, a counselor at South San Francisco High School, is the acting chairman of South City's Community Scholarship Association. She felt that the conference was very enlightening and valuable but said, "It would be impossible to give a brief summary of each speaker's presentation. The issues within each topic are as complex as they are sweeping. For example, Clark Kerr's address dealt with the problems facing higher education in the coming decade. One of his eight major points was that the university will have to change its emphasis from a somewhat isolated establishment on the fringe of society to an institution which is the focal point — the crossroads — where our many political and economic issues will be brought for examination and resolution."

AGE

The minimum voting age in Hawaii is 20.

YULE-TIDE SPIRIT

Santa Claus And His 'Helpers'

Santa's helpers in Pacifica wear "OD's," or belong to the Tau Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, and at right Beverly Mannina studies boxes of toys just delivered to Pacifica Christmas Bureau headquarters by San Bruno Marines, Sgt. Cary Rowe, S-Sgt. Dennis McAfee (kneeling) and S-Sgt. Gordon Fischer. Barbara Hackley "checks out" the delivery. At left, Santa talks over a gift list with five-year-old Daly City boy, Paul Tovick, at the Westlake Shopping Center.

A New Trustee?

WATCH THIS SPACE — Rumors building that attorney Bill Schumaucher will be tapped for recently resigned Jefferson Elementary School District trustee, Tom Noonan's post. Schumaucher is a longtime Daly Cityite, having worked as a police officer while studying his way towards a bar degree, later a deputy county district attorney, and presently an associate to City Attorney Albert Polonsky. Action to confirm the appointment will be made in about two weeks.

TRUSTEE EDWARD TOMASELLO is out of town — attending the California School Boards' meet in Anaheim (Disneyland for the uninitiated).

AND SPEAKING OF POLONSKY — The part-time San Francisco State (business law) instructor kept his classes going during the upheaval at the so-called Institution For Higher Learning by holding sessions in his Daly City offices. Attendance was between 50-75 per cent, Polonsky said.

MEANWHILE BACK AT STATE — Why hasn't temporary SFS president S. I. Hayakawa received more backing from the local Japanese community? For one thing, they don't particularly like him. The rumble is, he's from Canada and has never offered his services to the local minority community (which pretty much works out its own problems), on such activities as the Japan-American Citizenship League and others. Now, he jumps in with both feet and expects complete backing. Many Japanese feel Hayakawa is too arrogant and does not show enough humility. On the other hand, they AGREE that the school should remain open REGARDLESS OF WHO OPENS IT. You figure it out.

THAT LITTLE FELLOW in the red suit running around town is none other than Broadmoor police chief Ray Savage who spends all his off time during the holidays helping Santa. Could you do less? Send a toy over to the Fire Department for the Toys For Tots program. Loosen up!

IT TOOK WESTBAY TRANSIT a lotta years and a lotta money to come up with a plan that nationwide experts came up with a lotta years back. Matter of fact, this newspaper published a rather detailed plan of a rapid transit bus system being worked out in a Midwestern state last year.

HOW CUM DEPT. — How cum the Daly City annual Commissioners' party was held in South San Francisco? Does the Honorable Council have its annexation sights on the "Industrial City?" Doubtful, doubtful.

SAY, FOLKS, HOW DO YOU FEEL about sending our police across the Bearded Border to SFS? I say bring our troops home! It's already cost Daly City taxpayers over $1,000 to bring law-'n-order to that troubled campus. ("Troubled campus" is an idiotic way of saying "someone shoulda spanked those kids long ago.")

SCOOPS GALORE — Watch for another Daly City Commissioner (a very popular one) to resign his post in the not too distant future. Reason: He's being given a step up that will probably mean his transfer to another region.

SIGN OF THE TIMES — Outside the A&W Root Beer drive-in on Alemany: "Mrs. Curtis Wants Tony Home Permanent."

THE BEN FRANKLIN SCHOOL Journal defines a teen-ager dance: "Dizzykneeland."

THAT TIME OF YEAR — Shoplifters descending on the area like the rats they are . . . Thanks to them you and I have to pay upwards of 15 per cent more for EVERYTHING in a store. You can help. If you see one of those pests, tip off a store clerk RIGHT AWAY. You'll be doing YOURSELF a service.

LORENE BEASLEY

Worthwhile Charities

QUESTION: I am a small businessman and many of my customers ask me to contribute to their pet charities. I have not heard of many of these charities. How can I be sure they are worthwhile?

ANSWER: Call your Better Business Bureau. Incidentally, if you join the Better Business Bureau, you will receive a plaque to display which reads, "No solicitations considered unless first submitted to the Better Business Bureau."

QUESTION: I am planning to buy some gold jewelry for my fiancee this Christmas. What is the difference between gold, gold-filled and other terms I see advertised describing jewelry.

ANSWER: Pure gold is 24K. 14K is most commonly used for gold jewelry. This means that 14-25ths of the weight of the entire article is gold. Gold-filled and gold-plated items have a metal base covered by gold. If stamped "1-10 12K Gold Filled" for example, it means that 1-10 of the weight of the item is 12K gold.

BARBARA BLADEN

(Post Drama Critic)

Music: Vitamins For Conductor

If I were asked to name the most exciting film of this year, it easily would be "Lion In Winter" now at the Metro Theater. It would also take my vote for the best acting, best direction, best art, photography, color and script.

Historians will fall into the aisles at the irreverence juxtaposed with legend, myth and fact. But film audiences looking for belly-laughs and fans of Peter O'Toole, Katharine Hepburn will revel at the gutsy treatment of one of England's foremost rulers, King Henry II and his queen, Eleanor of Acquitane.

Here is lusty dialogue by James Goldman in a class with Albee's "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?". History in the modern idiom is strange counterpoint to costume drama. Audiences at the opening night of "Hair", the Broadway play in which the cast ends the first act by stripping naked to the audience, couldn't be anymore shocked than some of the lines and inferences in "Lion."

FIERCE IS A WORD THAT SUMS UP THE POWER STRUGGLE in which husband and wife wrestle for their son's affections. Their vitriolic slander of each other, coupled with the monstrous behavior of their offspring, makes for abusive and abrasive relations. And yet it is a love story, love that hates and dominates, smothers and destroys.

Its quite a jolt to accept history's much revered warrior Richard The Lionhearted as a homosexual but there it is, admitted by his "lover" King Philip of France. The household includes the King's mistress (played with a gentility and freshness by lovely Jane Merrow) and three sons who'd execute their own father for the coveted power of the throne. Out of exile comes a capital deceiver, the Queen, (The King allows her in the palace on holidays) and the fur really flies. That's putting it mildly.

And yet one wonders if the whole thing isn't a marvelous put-on. The most successful films these days have fallen into this syndrome and I can't deny that some of the lines are ludicrously and fradulently outrageous. One is easily seduced by vitality in filmmaking and "Lion" has excess of it. But it makes for red-blooded drama and earns honors on that point alone.

Hepburn is fantastic. She drips honey and spits fire in almost the same breath. Her towering wrath is displayed in the style of the Greek tragediennes and her acerbic outbursts of spite and recrimination are equal to any of the Shakespeare's witches in women's clothing. One wants to jump from the seat and cheer as they do opera divas when she departs on her barge to lick her wounds in exile at the final scene.

The cast is their match, to a man. John Castle as the conniving son Geoffrey; Anthony Hopkins, the bloodthirsty son, Richard; Nigel Terry, a snivelling idiot son John (he ruled England after Richard vacated the throne in death) are excellent.

This isn't a polite picture, not even a pretty one. The Twelfth century castle has dirt floors; the royal garments are homespun for warmth, not fashion; there is a dampness from its inhabitants. But the acting and dialogue will keep you strung tight in your seats, an intellectual Russian-roulette game whereby each new volley of invectives might drop the victim on the spot.

Anthony Harvey is the director who has pitted these jealousies and wrenched these emotions from so distinguished a cast. His achievement is eloquent testimony that historical films can be exciting.

Pacifica Christmas Bureau Needs Help

Santa's harried helpers began sorting stock at the Coastside Community Christmas Bureau on Eureka Square last week.

Quantity they had, but some of the donations were in rather poor condition. One worker filled a carton with dolls to take home to be cleaned up and dressed.

The Christmas Bureau, unfortunately, has neither time nor talent to repair items.

Who does the Christmas Bureau help? These: The older person who lives alone on a tiny pension, the mother with tiny children whose husband found it too much and left, the family that lost all belongings in a fire, the totally disabled person who can no longer earn a living may turn to the Christmas Bureau for some warmth and cheer of the season.

These folks come to the attention of the Christmas Bureau by referral from social workers, the Family Service Agency, Red Cross, churches, schools, the Catholic Social Service. Referrals are checked to be sure that there is no duplication.

Jean Curry and Pat Pringle have prepared the work schedules, trying to divide the labor evenly. They could use more names to fill in the spaces.

They need clothes, new or next to new, jewelry, gift orders, holiday decorations, money, new toys or barely-used ones, workable appliances and furniture.

'Impatient Generation'

THROUGH the current tumult at San Francisco State College comes the voice of Russell Bass, student body president.

"We're seeking authority for this campus to make decisions affecting the lives of students on this campus. . . There is not one shred of decision-making power left on campus."

This is the cry of an impatient generation, that proves with every riot; with every closed campus that it is not ready for power.

Let the young people who make the cry learn that radicals do not make good leaders. As Emerson wrote, "..... radicalism is destructive and aimless . . . it is not loving, it has no ulterior and divine ends; but is destructive only out of hatred and selfishness."

Let them learn that wrecking buildings, shouting obscenities and traducing authorities mark them as radicals, unfit for leadership. "Reason and calm judgment," said Tacitus, "are the qualities specially belonging to a leader."

☆ ☆ ☆

LET BASS and his kind grow up before they reach for leadership. For help let them start with the definitions of maturity in a new book by a popular columnist who is not a professor nor even noted for deep thought, but who is a mature person. "Ann Landers Says: "Truth Is Stranger."

An article therefrom may be found in December 1968 Reader's Digest.

"Maturity is the ability to control anger, and settle differences without violence or destruction.

Maturity is patience, the willingness to pass up immediate pleasure in favor of the long-term gain.

Maturity is perseverance, sweating out a project in spite of opposition and discouraging setbacks.

Maturity is unselfishness, responding to the needs of others.

Maturity is the capacity to face unpleasantness and disappointment without becoming bitter.

MATURITY IS HUMILITY. A mature person is able to say, "I was wrong." He is also able to say, "I am sorry." And when he is proved right, he does not have so say, "I told you so."

Maturity means dependability, integrity, keeping one's word. The immature have excuses for everything. They are the chronically tardy, the no-shows, the gutless wonders who fold in the crises. Their lives are a maze of broken promises, unfinished business and former friends.

Maturity is the ability to live in peace with that which we cannot change.

Crash Injures S.F. Fireman Near D.C.

Bruce Dunwell, 25-year-old San Francisco fireman, was hospitalized Wednesday night for treatment of serious injuries suffered in a traffic accident near Daly City.

Highway patrolmen said Dunwell was on a motorcycle, going south on Junipero Serra Boulevard at 6 p.m., when he collided with an auto driven by Jacob A. Mummert, 61, an insurance agent of 1493 South Mayfair Street, Daly City. Witnesses said Mummert was making a left turn into Southgate.

Dunwell, who was thrown 39 feet from his motorcycle, was taken to Kaiser Hospital in South San Francisco.

Mrs. Salome Mummert, 62, was taken to Mary's Help Hospital for treatment of minor injuries.

SDA Members In Annual Appeal

Christmas music is being conveyed to the doorsteps of Pacifica residents as the Pacifica Seventh-day Adventist Church participates in its sixty-fifth World Service Appeal.

Members of the local congregation will make door-to-door visits during the next four weeks. These volunteer solicitors will carry official credentials issued by the church.

Funds solicited will go toward extending medical, welfare, and educational services in 190 countries, including the United States. On a worldwide basis, the church last year aided more than 8.3 million persons, distributed more than 11.4 million articles of clothing, donated 9.5 million hours of volunteer time, and contributed $4.2 million in food and cash to the church's welfare program.

The annual World Service Appeal is the only public appeal for funds made by the Adventist church.

United Fund Is Success

Cal R. Barrera, chairman for the 1968 United Crusade Drive for the City of South San Francisco reports credit for this year's successful campaign must go to the departmental chairmen and personnel within the six departments. Municipal employees participated in greater numbers and contributed larger shares than ever before, according to Chairman Barrera.

This year's contributions totaled $2254 as compared with last year's figure of $2193.

Barrera stated departments entitled to special mention for exceptional performances and response included the City Clerk's office, Engineering Department, Ruth Wilson, chairman; Fire Department, Capt. Art Maquire, chairman; Building Department, Rex Greene, chairman; Library, Kathy Gardner, chairman, and Street and Sewer Department, Dave Corsigilia, chairman.

Pacifica Gem Club Forms

Formation of a rock and gem club in Pacifica is well on its way with the first meeting held on November 25 at the home of originator, Mrs. Lillian Pedersen, 140 Sussex Way, Pacifica.

No permanent name was set for the club, but a few catchy names like "Pacifica Boulder Chasers" and Pacifica Rolling Stones" were humorously suggested.

The advisory board, which met December 3, outlined the agenda for the next meeting which included election of officers, selection of a permanent name for the club, dues and a Christmas get-together.

The next meeting is to be held at 8 p.m. Thursday at the home of the Colwells, 1404 Perez, Pacifica, and all interested in joining the group and attending the meeting, may call Mrs. Pedersen.

S.S.F. Court Carpet Bids

Bids for carpeting Municipal Court rooms in South San Francisco, San Mateo and Redwood City are to be opened by the County Board of Supervisors January 7.

Henry P. Terratt, director of general services, estimated the job will cost $18,500.

PRINCIPAL figures at Friday's groundbreaking for the new Royal Inn hotel complex at San Francisco International Airport were, left to right, William Borba, South San Francisco Chamber of Commerce president; Frank Bertucelli, South San Francisco mayor; and Earl Gogosian, president and founder of Royal Inns of America, Inc.

Butchers' Safe Looted In South S.F.

A safe at the offices of Butchers' Union Local 508 on West Harris Street in South San Francisco was boken into Thursday night, and an undetermined amount of cash was taken, police reported.

Officers said burglars used explosives to open the safe in the office building at 102 West Harris.

The building was entered through a rear window.

Union representatives said the burglary was discovered at 8 a.m. today when the office was opened.

"We are waiting for the bookkeeper's report to determine the amount lost," a spokesmen said. He said no "very large amounts" of money are kept in the safe.

Jewelry and cash totalling $107 were taken from a residence on Duval Street in another burglary sometime Thursday, police said.

The home of Lily O'Leary, 134 Duval, was broken into between 7 a.m. and 5 p.m. while occupants were away.

Entrance was gained through forcing a rear window.

In another burglary, "several" cases of spray deodorant were taken from a railroad car at the rear of 145 Sylvester.

Jeff School Christmas Program Set

Jefferson Elementary School in Daly City will present its annual Christmas Program on December 17, at 7:30 p.m., in the school's multi-purpose room.

Performing will be the Jefferson Glee Club, under the direction of Paul Carpenter, and the Jefferson Instrumental group, led by Richard Snyder.

There will be included in the program skits, songs, and plays presented by the primary grades.

The program will be followed by a P-TA bake sale, proceeds of which will go toward providing a classroom Christmas party for the children on December 20, the day before Christmas vacatitn begins.

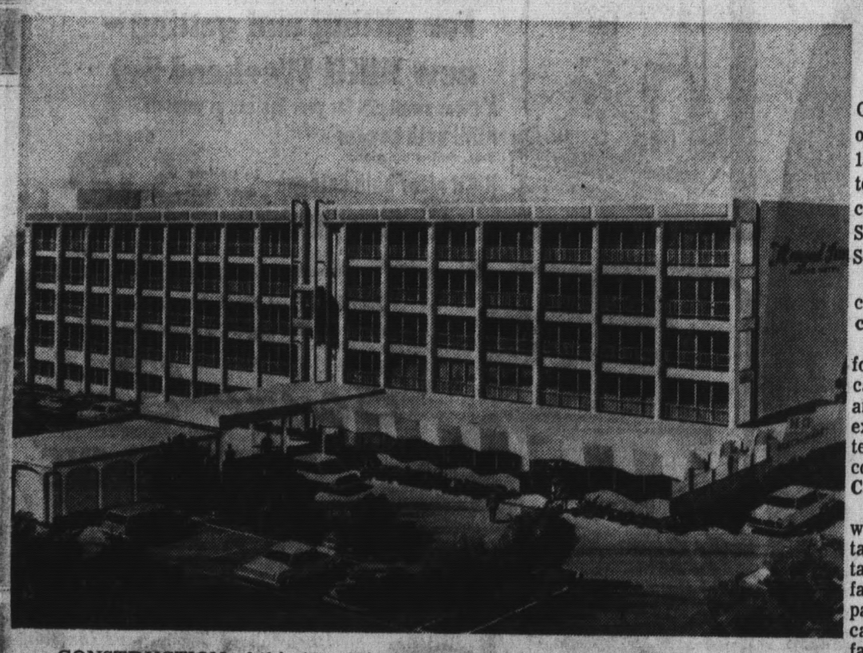
Man Held In Burglary

A San Francisco man was arrested as he allegedly tried to flee the scene of an apartment house burglary in Broadmoor last Monday.

Daly City officer Charles Munday apprehended Rudolph G. Martinez, 33, of 468 Douglas Street, after chasing the suspect more than four blocks up and down streets in the Hillside Boulevard section of the city.

Police believe that a car seen speeding away from the area contained an accomplice of Martinez.

SSF Hotel Groundbreaking



CONSTRUCTION of this $2 million, 135-room high-rise Royal Inn hotel complex on Airport Boulevard, South San Francisco was started last Friday. Mayor Frank Bertucelli officiated at noon groundbreaking.

Construction began last Friday on a $2 million, five-story, 135-room high-rise Royal Inn hotel complex at the San Francisco International Airport at 275 South Airport Boulevard in South San Francisco.

Earl Gagosian, president and founder of Royal Inns of America, Inc., also was in attendance. Headquarters for the fast expanding network of motor hotels, restaurants and cocktail lounges is in San Diego, Calif.

The Royal Inn hotel facility will include a Jolly King Restaurant and Lost Knight Cocktail Lounge, both members of fast expanding subsidiary companies of Royal Inns of America, Inc. The Jolly King is a family style restaurant with seating capacity for 110 persons. Lost Knight cocktail lounge has a combination of modern and 17th century design, which complements both Jolly King and Royal Inn decor.

Features of the hotel include two exterior glass elevators, interior therapy pool, heated swimming pool, suites with built-in refrigerator bars, large conference room, color TV in all rooms and suites, extra-size beds, luxurious furnishings throughout, and many other popular accommodations available throguhout the Royal Inn network.

The property owners of the hotel site are a group of pesons, most of whom are residents of the Bay Area. The group is headed by Joseph Svedise of Belmont and George Gage of San Diego.

"While most Royal Inn motor hotels and hotels have managing co-owners, our San Francisco airport hotel will be managed by the Royal Inns corporation. The corporation will also manage other selected locations where our expert management is required or needed," Gagosian said.

This is the fifth location in the Bay Area for the Royal Inns network. A Royal Inn motor hotel is in operation in Alameda; a nine-story high-rise hotel is under construction in downtown San Francisco on Larkin Street; a motor hotel in Vallejo will open this month, and another high-rise hotel at the Oakland Airport will begin construction within 30 days. When all four locations are completed, there will be 480 Royal Inn rooms available in the area.

The 17th Royal Inn in the network will be open within two weeks on San Diego's Embarcadero. The company now spans California, Arizona, Washington, Oregon, Utah, Colorado, Nevada, New Mexico and Hawaii. The rapidly expandig 3½-year-old organization expects to have open by the end of next year at least 35 Royal Inns, 21, Jolly King Restaurants and 10 Lost Knight cocktail lounges.

The general public is invited to attend the grand opening celebration, December 7, 8, and 9, of the new location site of Autohaus, Brugger, Inc.

The new, unusual and unconventional building of the Mercedes-Benz dealership will serve as the largest exclusive Mercedes-Benz sales and service center dealership in the United States, according to owner Hubert A. Brugger.

The new site is located at 301 Main Street, Redwood City. The old dealership in Palo Alto will be maintained to serve Autohaus, Brugger's cusotmers in the southern portion of the Peninsula.

Oldsmobile built its 100,000th Toronado last Friday as new model year sales of the division's front wheel drive automobile run 44 per cent higher than a year ago.

The Lansing-based manufacturer, aided by sizable percentage gains in all its series, is headed toward a new calendar year sales record, General Manager Harold N. Metzel told auto editors at a pre-Detroit Auto Show luncheon recently.

"We're already 79,000 units ahead of last year and, at the rate we're traveling, our dealers will sell 645,000 cars by December 31," Metzel said. "That would compare to our previous record of 615,000 cars sold in calendar 1965," he added.

Metzel also predicted that Oldsmobile would earn 7.9 per cent of the 1969 model year market, or close to 675,000 units. This is based on an expected domestic market of 8½ million passenger cars, he added.

George Mardikian Likely White House Guest

George M. Mardikian, who first broke bread with President-elect Richard Nixon and his first lady, Pat, more than two decades ago, will most likely be one of the first White House dinner guests under a Nixon administration. When he was a young Navy lieutenant stationed in the Pacific area, Nixon on several occasions took Pat to dine at Mardikian's famed Omar Khayyam restaurant in San Francisco. So as president, Nixon would be reciprocating hospitality dating back many years . . . "Deuces Wild" or "Which Twin has the Tobey" is the current production of the Cameo Curtain Callers presented nightly at Palo Alto's Cameo Theater. Cocktails are served throughout the theater durmg the performance of the melodrama, which is immediately followed by olio. Tickets are $2; special group prices may be arranged . . . Duane Eckert, phenomenal owner of the Cap'ns Cabin, is back in action after a three-week bout with "the bug." Duane returns just in time for the post-season football action.

George Mardikian

OLE FROM SCOTTY CAMPBELL'S — This is not the fiery Mexican dance team of Dolores and Carmelita Sanchez, but the lively restaurant team of Theresa Urban and her sister Mary Lou Francis, who were pictured during a recent Latin fiesta held at Scotty Campbell's restaurant in Redwood City. The "twist" of the matter is that at one time both were really members of a Latin dance team which toured the nation and European countries.

Joe Ercoli, co-owner of the Leaning Tower restaurant, says reservations are now being taken for New Year's Eve. Prices will remain as usual. Reservations are almost a must . . . Antoinette May, lovely publisher of "Les Gals," the magazine for the swinging single gals, recently dined at L'Auberge, where she interviewed author Ruth Dixon. Miss Dixon is the author of "Married Men Are the Greatest Lovers" and "Marriage Is a Bad Habit." . . . The spacious Banque Room of the Shadows of San Mateo was the setting for the pre-Thanksgiving luncheon for the San Mateo-Burlingame Rotary Little Big Game. The San Mateo rooters must have had double helpings of soup, as the Mateans routed Burlingame 50 to 14 in the annual Turkey Day outing . . . Sizzlin' steaks is the house specialty at the Bell family's Skylark restaurant. The "Dinner for Two" is a huge Monday and Tuesday enticement, with the $4.50 tab paying for two complete eight ounce New York steak dinners.

Although the menu at Yolanda's Terminal Cafe has been changed, the restaurant's famous family-style policy continues. Two entrees are always served. Dinner includes soup, salad, pasta, two fresh garden vegetables, a small bottle of wine, French bread, butter AND a premium platter of sliced tomatoes . . . Manager Chuck Winstead recently added New York steak to the menu, which is served on Tuesday nights, along with Chicken Cacciatore. . . Steaks, prime rib, lobster and various Italian dishes are all house specialties at Sebastian's of Belmont. The recently-introduced and more complete dinner menu consists mainly of dishes recommended to owners Mike Kerns and Jerry Teaderman by their patrons . . . The Skeller, located on the lower level of Joe's of Hillsdale restaurant, is the place to enjoy a thick, German, hof-brau style sandwich and your choice of beer, coffee and other beverages. All this in a luxurious atmosphere at a price of less than one dollar.

Dell'Osso's Is Open Peninsula Show Place

The much-heralded opening of Frank Petrini and Vincente Dell'Osso's San Mateo restaurant introduced countless numbers to a dining experience which will go down in restaurant history. All the advance publicity items sent to this office in the past few months certainly didn't exaggerate its beauty and dining facilities. Dell'Osso's restaurant was built at a cost of $750,000 and looks every dollar of it. The sweeping architectural design (credits to Architect Richard Zahm) of the restaurant, achieved by highly artistic use of laminated douglas fir, lends a warm welcome atmosphere to the entrance. The interior was designed by famed Burlingame interior decorator John Sutti, who has designed many of the name restaurants in San Francisco and the East Coast. Luncheons and dinners are served seven days a week in old country Mediterranean tradition. Piano bar, private banquet rooms, counter, booths and dining room service all blend to make Dell'Osso's a Peninsula showplace.

All New Show For Fireside Lounge

The Fireside Lounge is now featuring its latest "Space Revue" — which has to be one of the most unusual performances this San Mateo bistro has come up with yet. Where owner Phil Maita finds the talent and "props" for his shows is past imagination. The new "Sacrifice Dance to the Sicilian Gods" is definitely a "first" in the Bay Area. Ten topless beauties and two statues make up the package. Entertainment seven nights a week.

Nick's And Moonraker "Rest Stops" For Santa

Nick's Moonraker, a show place of Pacifica, should be on Santa's "rest stop" list. This exceptional restaurant is a natural for those who have a fancy for the nautical. To accent an evening of elegant dining, floodlights illuminate the shores of the Pacific and reflect against the nearby rolling hills. Mr. Claus would be thrilled with this restful dining scene. If you seek a site for New Year's Eve that's out of the ordinary, make reservations now for Nick's or the Moonraker in Rockaway Beach, Pacifica.

☆

If you taven't been to Frank Torres Montara Beach resort hotel, of late, then you've missed seeing Frank and Fannie's exciting Holiday decorations. Make it a point to plan an evening dining by the sea. By all means, bring along the young ones, who will also be in awe over the beauty of the delicate decorations, which were handmade by Fannie Torres and members of the restaurant staff.

Lanai Liquor Store For Chrismas Gifts

December is already the banner month for holiday reservations and advance banquet parties, reports Villa Chartier owner Emerson Murfee. "We already have many banquets and sales meetings scheduled for 1969," said the prominent restaurateur during our Wednesday luncheon conversation. There are nine private rooms from which to make a choice for any occasion at the Villa Chartier. Now is also the time to select your holiday liquor gifts — and Lanai Liquor Store has one of the largest selections in the Bay Area. Stop by and look see.

Stickney's Shows Volume Increase

Particular diners are really appreciating Stickney's brand of food and hospitality. Not only is the San Mateo restaurant showing a big volume increase in banquets and wedding parties, the dining room and coffee shop area have also been enjoying a thriving holiday season business. Adrian "Red" Stickney, along with Mary Ann Sinclair and Richard D. Alldred, Stickney's able and capable assistants, are to be commended on the sweepstake success of Stickney's restaurants and bakeries.

☆

Jack Carney of KSFO selected the Golden Pavilion in San Francisco as "Restaurant of the Month." They enjoyed the fabulous feast selected from the "Six Classic Cuisines of China." Now Peninsulans can enjoy the same high cuisine on the Peninsula at the new Golden Pavilion on El Camino in Los Altos. Ask about signing up for their "Dinners of the Month."

Cal Tjader And Vince Guaraldi Thunderbolt Hotel

Jazz greats Cal Tjader and Vince Guaraldi will be combining their musical talents Saturday, December 14, in a one-night concert in the upstairs ballroom of Millbrae's Thunderbolt Hotel. These two outstanding musicians are sure to play to a sell-out crowd. Tickets are now on sale ($3.50 per person). For further information and reservations, call 697-7700.

☆

A favorite dinner spot for Peninsulans going to see a play or a movie in San Francisco is Phil Lehr's Steakery. It's within a couple of blocks of every major downtown theater and has parking right at Lehr's door. Hence, no waiting for your car. Great for Christmas shoppers, too.

MILLS BOWS, TOO

S.S.F. Downs Marin Unit for Third Win

No one will ever accuse the South San Francisco Warriors of being the most artistic team ever to bounce a basketball but the North Peninsula quintet does get the most important job — winning — done.

SSF won its third game of the week on Friday by totaling confusing Marin Catholic, the coaching staff and the fans, 84-65, with an offense bringing back memories of pickup hunch days.

"It's the kind of game that sends the mind reeling at times," admitted winning coach Bill Purcell. "We play so well and work together one minute and wind up diving on the floor and crashing bodies the next minute. When we put everything together we will be a much better squad, though."

Marin Catholic, the only team so far that has tried to run with South City, got a lesson from the masters at that basketball art form. SSF used every player on the bench, 11 scoring, and with each new face a new facet of the helter-skelter offense was unfolded.

Reliable Steve Venters again led the scoring with 19 points on muscle shots while guard Rocky Walker had his highest output of the young season with 15 markers. Again, as he did against Mills, it was the bench job of Tom Noxon in the second period that broke the Warriors away to an eventual 20-point lead and a coasting in the second half.

Score by Quarters

Marin Catholic	12	17	16	20	—65
SSF	21	20	24	19	—84

Scoring: MC — Murray 3-1-7; Hanrahan 6-2-14; Relander 7-4-18; Hanson 3-0-6; Luchessa 2-0-7; O'Leary 1-0-2; Schulz 0-2-2; Offenbach 1-1-3; Parnow 5-0-10. SSF—Young 5-1-11; Bob Collins 1-0-2; Bruce Collins 0-1-1; Venters 7-5-19; Larios 4-2-10; Walker 5-5-15; Housman 3-0-6; Noxon 3-1-7; Smith 1-1-7; Smith 1-0-0; Sawyer 2-3-7; Booth 1-0-2.

Warriors Rout Mills

Referring to the South San Francisco Warrior basketball team as "laundrymen" this early in the season might not be a far-fetched comparison.

Bill Purcell's Warriors ironed out some unwanted wrinkles, added a few of different variety and came away with a 67-52 victory over Mills High School.

Shaking off a good deal of sluggishness displayed in Tuesday's opener against Aragon, the Warriors put their offense in second gear in the second half behind the quarterbacking of reserve guard Tim Noxon and the passing and shot-blocking of guard Mike Larios.

Credited with nine assists, 11 points, six rebounds and numerous deflections, Larios helped the Warriors establish control in the waning moments of the first half as he hit two 20-footers and a lay-in and set up center Steve Venters for another. Venters, the reliable South San Francisco center for the past three seasons, finished with 21 points while forward Dick Young had another excellent scoring effort of 19 points.

The smaller Mills squad dominated the rebounding at both ends of the court but the recently-installed Warrior full-court zone press rattled the Vikes so as to nullify any advantage the board work might have given them.

Jeff Lights Stripped Of Two Titles

Nearly one month after the season had ended the North Peninsula League finally crowned champions in the C and D basketball race.

The NPL Board of Managers stripped Jefferson High School of its title in both divisions because of each team having an ineligible player on the roster. That means that Terra Nova High School won the C crown while Westmoor took the D title. Both schools had finished second to Jefferson in their respective divisions.

Junior Jerry Mahood, who had been selected to the All-League team after the season, was ruled ineligible because his residence was reported to be in San Mateo. It is expected that he will have to transfer to San Mateo High School.

Freshman Jerry Manzanares' residence was San Francisco, according to the Board's findings, and he will have to transfer to the city next season.

"It was an unfortunate set of circumstances that we wish had never happened," noted Jefferson principal Ed Cereghino. "We asked the Board not to penalize the whole team and the fine season they had for the mistakes of two boys but they decided that we must lose the title."

The Board made no recommendation as to just what the record of Jeff would be. State rules specify that a team will forfeit all games won in which an ineligible player participated. Mahood was a starter but Manzanares was used mainly off the bench.

RFK League Stars Picked In South SF

The 1968 All City Stars have been selected from the South San Francisco Recreation and Park Department's Fifth and Sixth Grade flag football league.

The young athletes represent both offensive and defensive linemen an backs from eight teams in the Robert F. Kennedy League, which recently concluded its season.

The All City Stars representing Avalon School are: Jim Gard, John Baca, John Caselli, Paul Bachtold; Brentwood Park: Peter Rossi, Butch Gurtler, Joe Dali, Eric Miramontes; Buri Buri Park: Steve Nunes, Mike Amodeo, Rob Zink, Mark Cavanaugh;

Daly City's Champions Down Bruno

The Abraham Lincoln School Madmen, Sixth grade champions from the Daly City Recreation Department Flag Football League, defeated the San Bruno Recreation Department Champions, 6-0, to bring the "Perennial Drumstick" from the Gobbler Bowl back to Daly City.

The entire offensive and defensive unit of the Madmen played an outstanding game as they maintained good ball control and held off many of the opposition's offensive drives throughout the game. Spearheading the winner's attack were Mark Washford, Larry Hiner, Rich Murray, Cory Price, Adolfo Sandoval, Kevin Hampton and Tim Casulas.

Serra, San Mateo: Two Gifted Units

In a year when individual and team brilliance in high school football may well have been at its zenith on the Peninsula, the city of San Mateo ended up with two gifted prep aggregations, both of whom terrorized their respective leagues.

Both Serra and San Mateo won league titles in 1968, Serra becoming the West Catholic Athletic League champion and San Mateo easily annexing its second straight Mid-Peninsula League diadem.

San Mateo became the Central Coast Section's number one offensive team with an average of 42 points per game while the Padres were close behind in second place with an average of almost 37 per tilt.

The Bearcats won their league with a 6-0 mark as did the Padres in theirs.

Both schools led their circuits by overwhelming margins in almost every offensive category. Serra led its league in defense while San Mateo was second in the MPL behind Capuchino.

The Padres have been rated as tied with Alameda for the number one position in Northern California and have already been named as best in their section and county.

San Mateo has also crept up in the North State and local ratings and has been rightly acclaimed as one of the Bay Area's best grid powers.

Over a two year span the teams have combined for a 32-3 record. Between them, they have lost just one league game in 24 tries (Sierra in 1967, 27-7 to St. Ignatius).

Individually, Serra possessed the North State's number one passer, Jesse Freitas Jr., and San Mateo had the number two runinng back, Alonzo Emery. Both were Backs of the Year in their leagues.

The two Swann brothers, Lynn of Serra and Calvin of San Mateo, combined for almost 1,400 yards in passes in 1968 and scored 23 touchdowns between tehm.

Finally, when the two schools met on October 4 before a crowd of over 7,000 persons at the Burlingame district field, Serra won, 57-33, in one of the greatest offensive shows ever seen on the mid-Peninsula.

Ironically, San Mateo's point total was the highest run up on the Padres in their recent two-year reign. It took Serra's highest total in the history of the school to overcome their neighbors.

Jogging Off That Flab?

(This playlet is dedicated to all non-joggers who have been accused by joggers of being all things un-American from flabby to gutless for refusing to indulge in what may be the most irrelevant athletic fad since 1963's 50-mile hikes.)

JOGGER: (Dressed in baggy sweat suit, sweat socks slipped below his shoe line. Obviously cursed with perspiration cover-up, his arms are lowered and he is gasping for air, purple-faced.) Hey, who don't you join our jogging club. It'll do you a lot of good. Look at what it's done for me.

NON-JOGGER: It would do me about as much good as watching Phyllis Diller undress, and besides, I'm not a masochist.

JOGGER: (Now prostrate, receiving mouth-to-mouth resuscitation from passerby who has no pride. JOGGER speaks between passerby's teeth.) You flabby Americans are all alike. You think nothing of going around with clogged capillaries and pot bellies. Look at my belly (He now bolts up, lifts his sweat shirt, and displays a flattened navel. He pats it heartily, producing strange sounds.)

NON-JOGGER: That would be great if my white shirts had bare mid-rifts, but since I'm not a Tahitian beach boy and am not looking for a job in Xavier Cougat's rhythym or percussion section, I don't see the value in that. I get the same effect by wearing tight Jockey-shorts.

JOGGER: But it's not just for the looks. It's for conditioning. Why, another month of this and I could walk out of the Sahara Desert in mid-summer.

NON-JOGGER: What other practical values does jogging have?

JOGGER: Why, it provides an outlet for your natural hostilities and aggressive, competitive nature, works off the day's frustrations and pressures; it invigorates you, works up an appetite. I can't wait to get home, have a martini, a great meal, and then sleep like a log.

NON-JOGGER: And then tomorrow you'll jog five miles again to work off your hostilities, aggressions, frustrations, pressures, the martini, the meal and the lying around?

JOGGER: Right! Now you've got it. It's vigorous, that's what it is, vigorous — wholesome!

NON-JOGGER: Well you see, I don't have to jog, then, because I have nothing to work off. Last year I quit a job I detested, and have one now that I like, even though I don't have as many fringe benefits, like getting off early to jog. I admit I don't do much, so as a consequence I really never work up an appetite for food or drink. So I have no real weight problem. And I'm in good enough condition to take my brisk monthly walk to the mail box down the street to mail my bills. So what's the difference?

JOGGER: What's the difference? Listen man, you're over 30 — middle-aged! The string is running out. You've got to take care of yourself. Guys not much older than you are dying prematurely every day.

NON-JOGGER: Yeh, I know. Two of my friends did last year. They were the healthiest, most vigorous guys I ever knew. One died playing tennis, the other on the handball court. I have a hunch the jogging course may make it a trilogy.

JOGGER: Okey, wise guy. What about Jack LaLanne and that 100-year-old waiter who runs through Golden Gate Park every day?

NON-JOGGER: Exceptional specimen. But how many 100-year-old people have you ever seen interviewed who said they owed their longevity to jogging? Most of them say they've lived moderately and rested and relaxed all their lives — in fact, I hate to disillusion you, buddy, but a surprising number of them lay their longevity to good booze, good tobacco, and good women, not necessarily in that order or combination.

JOGGER: Next you'll be telling me that it's normal to have a pot belly.

NON-JOGGER: At a certain age, yes. Just like it's normal for kids and young adults NOT to have them, to be automatic in condition without jogging and eating yogurt for their chasing around and games — playing and courting and job hunting and raising kids, and all the things you need conditioning for when you're young. It's as normal as getting grey hair and wrinkles and losing your teeth as you get more elderly. Nature is a wonderful thing, my friend. Just as she notifies you when your body needs food and drink, as she gives you pain to warn you when you're sick, she gives you a pot belly and a little shortness of breath when walking up hills to warn you when you start slowing down.

JOGGER: Well, some of what you say may be true. But take me, for instance, I'm 50, but I gotta be in good shape. I'm an auto mechanic and I work hard all day. I need the conditioning.

NON-JOGGER: Do you ever go jogging around the shop?

JOGGER: Of course not.

NON-JOGGER: Then if you must exercise after work, why don't you practice hoisting engine blocks or something?

JOGGER: (His breath now caught, he manfully waves his hand at the non-jogger in utter disdain, and limps off, holding a pulled hamstring in place.) Okey, smart guy, but mark my words. Someday somebody's gonna be writing about us joggers.

NON-JOGGER: (Resting comfortably by the side of the road.) Who: Ralph Nadar or George Plimpton?

COW PALACE JAMMED

Boat Show Floor Space 'Sellout'

By GARRY NIVER
Post Sports Writer

South Bend of Miami may have been shut out, but just about everybody else, from Lowestoft, England to Clear Lake California, is in.

That was the report given by San Francisco International Sports and Boat Show manager Tom Rooney last week as the famed Cow Palace Show went through some preliminaries for its annual Daly City appearance, January 10 through 19.

"We have absolutely no floor space for exhibitors left," stated the affable Rooney, who has built the local event into the largest sports and boat show in the United States.

As a matter of fact, the mammoth exhibition of marine and sporting goods has outgrown the spacious confines of the once uncrowded Cow Palace.

Besides utilizing all of the possible floor space of the Geneva Avenue edifice, the Rooney production has spilled over into the adjoining pavilions to now include four halls of camping, two vacationlands and a marine hall.

"Although it seems hard to believe, we are running out of room," noted the Santa Rosa kangaroo keeper.

This year's queen ship will be a 40-foot aluminum hulled pleasure craft called the "Ocean Pirate," which is being imported from Lowestoft, England.

Despite its sea worthiness, the twin-screw motor yacht is currently making its way across the waters in a crate, which is another first for the Bay Area show. The huge crate is scheduled to dock in San Francisco on December 21.

Popular Scotsman Peter Anderson, all 270 pounds of him' is also scheduled to make a repeat appearance. The kilted Glasgow resident will again put on a demonstration of fly casting in the specially built pool.

Also returning for the second year, with some improvements, is the popular Ski Nautique water skiing tank. Champion skiers will give demonstrations daily on the world's only indoor water skiing device.

And in keeping with its tradition of presenting something new and spectacular each year, Rooney has added an indoor dry-land sail trainer. The trainer, which is similar to the Link Trainer used to train Ar Force pilots, is designed to teach sailing to the novice without his actually have to go to sea.

A 16-foot tank of water, replete with fans and direction devices, will produce simulated sailing conditions for the 14-foot sailboat.

The 1969 show also will feature the usual displays, from tiny fishing flies to elephant rifles.

"We'll have all of the new 1969 boat models, including Century, Chris Craft, Fairliner, Uniflite, Trojans and Owens," added Rooney.

More than 500 exhibits will be displayed at the show, which traditionally breaks its previous year's attendance record.

Sea Bowl

By NICKIE PEMBERTON

Shooting in the AQUANAUTS, Thelma Corcorran scored high series for the day with a 504. Rolling along behind her was Jeanette Hemp with a 456. In the MIX-MASTERS, Chuck Heim took the honors once more with 201-530. Lois Puis rolled a gorgeous 186 series and 142 pins over her current average. In the face of such a fantastic feat, her husband Joe would not be outdone: he rolled a 146 triplicate.

In the LEFTOVERS, Connie McArdle totaled 417 to be high; and on the same team Stella Stridbeck and Darlene Rehn tied with 412 for second spot. Bowling in the BOUPPANTS, Jo Banks beat everyone with a 432.

In the SCALP HUNTERS, Mary Lou Messick and sub Rose Skellen tied for top spot with a 416. Bowling against each other in the STARSHOOTERS, Lew Lovelady and Jay Brannan really tried to outdo each other: Lew shot a 234 to Jay's 224 (Lew's team won). Lew's total was 595 to Jay's 514. For the girls, Claire Mori was high with 496. Lanes 19 and 20 must have been hot for the KINGS AND QUEENS: Dick Greenley rolled 219-212-613 and Thelma Corcorran shot a big 230 game and 393 series.

In the 850 SCRATCH, our own Don Bickford rolled 212-211-236—649 (just coasting, folks). In second spot was Emil Magrin with 219-215-613. The ladies rested on their laurels.

Sue Anduhe bowled top score of 495 in the JOKERS. Next best score was Betty Boyd's 441. In the YAWNERS, Kay Saxen had top series of 469 and Verla Hubbard had high game of 193. Pat Davis' 470 was the best in the SPARE TOPS. Right behind her were Earlene McDonald with a 463 and Marilyn Thomas with 460.

A 205-216-244 was Fred Sann's total in the LUCKY STRIKERS. For the ladies, Phyllis Coil rolled 475. Subbing in the ALLEY HOLICS, Thelma Corcorran burned up the lanes with a 212-564. Sharon Penton and Terry Bailey were runners-up with 487 and 480. In the LIFE-SAVERS, Mary Lou Lovelady totaled 439 and Sue Anduhe was in second with 428.

The Serra Bowl Tigers were in the limelight in the NOON BEAMS last week. Mary Lou Ferrando rolled 480 while her teammate Elmira Garcia totaled 472.

In the A Division of the SURFSIDE, Roy Bishop rolled high score for the men with a 541 total. Tops for the fairer sex was J. B. Killian with a 491 total. In B Division, Lane Hall tore 'em up with 211-214-604. Cal Callan was not too far behind with 218-568. I guess the ladies saved their scores for next week.

MINNOWS — Roger Gay 65-109, Jeanne Massing 93-144. TADPOLES — Dave Garrison 105-242, Phoebe Emery 94-184 (2-game series). SEALS — Robert Schikore 126-255, Cathy Strutt 172-360.

Check the split conversions by our bowlers of tomorrow:

Bearcats Nip Rams

San Mateo High School takes to the road in search of its third straight basketball victory last week, after barely staying among the ranks of the unbeaten Friday.

Coach Gus Hasapakis' crew waited until the last minute to eke out a narrow 48-47 decision over Westmoor on the winner's courts yesterday. San Mateo travels to Woodside today.

A breakaway layup by Calvin Swann with one minute left took the lead away from the Rams and gave San Mateo the victory.

Donnie Jordan and Swannn paced the Bearcats' scoring attack with 13 points each, while Westmoor's Dan Brown took high game honors with 15 markers.

Oceana Edges Menlo School

The Oceana Sharks got lucky on their third outing on Friday, coming back to Pacifica with their first basketball victory of the young campaign.

The Sharks edged host Menlo School, 63-62, to advance their record to 1-2. Scott Aldes paced the Sharks with 18 points, followed by Chuck Smolter with 14 markers.

Bob Baldwin of Menlo nabbed high game honors with 27 points.

Westmoor New Soccer Champ

The N.P.L. soccer champs, the Westmoor Rams, defeated El Camino High or Sacramento to capture the Encina Soccer Tournament.

Coming off with a victory against Mission High, Westmoor entered the tournament against 15 of Northern California's best soccer teams.

After earning their way to the finals, the Rams were up against a formidable opponent in El Caino.

The first half ended in a 0-0 tie, but in the second half, Westmoor scored three goals.

Nick Nicholas, scoring the clutch goal just as he did last year against the South San Francisco Warriors, broke the tie with a pass from Archie Roboostoff.

Four minutes later Roboostoff dribbled down field, decoying the El Camino defense and then passed the ball off to his right where Jaime Arevaldo, Rams right wing eluding another fullback, blasted it into the nets for the second goal.

And then Archie Roboostoff, most valuable forward of the tournament, headed the ball past the outstretched hands of the opposing goalkeeper. In accomplishing this win, the Rams are now considered the number one team in Northern California.

Westmoor reached the finals by defeating Tracy, through a forfeit, Lincoln, and Balboa. But, the Lincln contest went down to the wire.

Late in the first half, on a corner kick Nick Nicholas served the ball into the goal in a feat worthy of any professional. With seconds remaining in the first half, Goalkeeper Dave Goldman blocked two penalty kicks by a hopeful Lincoln team. Ending a fine, clutch performance, Dave Goldman stopped another penalty kick in the closing seconds for a hard-earned 1-0 victory.

Led by the tournament's most valuable defensive player, center half Mahoud Dehghan, and the shut-out goalkeeping of Dave Goldman, plus the defensive playing of fullback Castillo and halfback Doug Matgen, the Rams displayed formidable strength in their defense, as no team was able to score upon them in the tournament.

Coach Herb Goodyear, enthusiastic over the tournament win, expressed great optimism for the forthcoming soccer season, which begins January 8, against Terra Nova.

San Bruno Christmas Pageant Set

The second annual Christm Pageant, to be sponsored by the San Bruno Recreation Department, has been set for 7 p.m. on December 23, at the Crestmoor High School little theatre.

The annual event is a benefit show in which the admission of canned goods will be turned over to the San Mateo Christmas Bureau who will then distribute the goods to needy families living in the San Mateo County.

This year's program will consist of Christmas musical arrangements presented by the Recreation Pageant band, conducted by Miss Jayne Hughes and Miss Betty Ryder. The Decima Allen School choir under the direction of Miss Diane York will sing a variety of Christmas songs.

The senior teen club under the direction of Rich Scuitto and Cathy Imondi will present a short skit entitled "The Night Before Christmas" and the evening's program will be highlighted by Mrs. Nash's Tiny Tot classes, who will present a selection of songs and will greet the arrival of Santa Claus.

All youngsters in attendance will be given candy canes and the opportunity to speak with Santa after the evenings performance.

For further information regarding the program, contact the San Bruno Recreation Department.

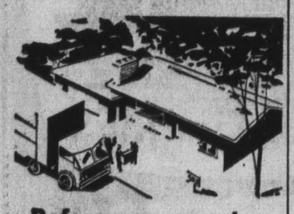
Crestmoor Yule Aides

Students of Crestmoor High School in San Bruno are particularly busy this year helping with the community's annual Christmas program.

Assisting the chamber of commerce in two areas of the program are the Crestmoor Photo Club and the students enrolled in Crestmoor's "Insights" project.

Under the direction of mathematics instructor and club advisor Cal Davis, the Crestmoor Photo Club will take pictures of children with Santa Claus when he appears on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday's at the three Skyline Boulevard shopping centers through Christmas.

Students in the "Insights" project at Crestmoor High are assisting in handling the multitude of children's letters to Santa this year. The class, under the direction of English instructor Mrs. Sharon Dunn, will gather letters from the chamber's "Santa Mail Boxes" and the Post Office and forward them into Old St. Nick at the North Pole.



Before you move in know the facts about insurance

Fact 1: Fire insurance alone on home and contents is not enough. Your home could be destroyed by windstorm, explosion or other hazard.

Fact 2: Theft coverage of your possessions, at home and away, should be included.

Fact 3: A lawsuit judgment against you could cost you everything you own. You need liability insurance.

Fact 4: You get all this and more in one Homeowners policy...with one low premium!

The Concert Band of Westmoor High School will give a winter concert in the Little Theater at 7:30 p.m. December 17.

The band this year is made up of students from both Serramonte and Westmoor High School.

In previous years the concert band has presented a Christmas concert in the band room for parents of band members only, but this year they are expanding to the Little Theater and inviting the public.

The music of "Greensleeves" will set the mood for Christmas. A woodwind quintet of band members will present traditional carols of the season.

Kathy O'Shaughnessy and Sheryl Jeppson on flute, Jim Bari, Bill O'Shaughnessy and Marcia Marie on clarinet make up this group.

A new march, "Minuteman," "Drummer Boy Bouncel" "Trade Winds," "Salavation is Created" and "White Christmas" are other selections on the program.

Robin Kramer is student leader of the band, carrying over from last year in that capacity. A new assistant student leader will be named at the concert as tryouts are now being held for that position.

The concert band is under the direction of Howard Loeffler, music director and teacher of instrumental music for both Westmoor and Serramonte High Schools.

Coast Party

IT'S CHRISTMAS PARTY time for the members of the Italian Catholic Federation, Good Shepherd Branch 213 in Pacifica!

This year's shower of gifts and food for the Mary's Help Hospital Clinic is slated for Friday evening, according to Mrs. Marie Capizano.

Special guests at this year's party are the children of members and the Sisters from the hospital who will receive the gifts for the clinic.

According to Mrs. Capizano, each child attending is asked to bring a small gift. A limit of $2 for each family has been set and if you have more than one child attending the committee in charge requests that the $2 be divided so that each child may bring a small contribution. After the youngsters present their donations each will be given a Christmas stocking.

Adults are also reminded that canned goods are being collected during the evening and all contributions may be dropped into a special container which will be provided for that purpose.

Mrs. Capizano urged that all members make a special effort to be on hand for this festive evening.

SUNDAY EVENING members of the Nu Sigma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi and their sisters from Xi Xi Zeta chapter will gather for their annual Christmas party, according to Mrs. Michael Sugrue.

The husbands will all be on hand to enjoy the dinner and see the ceremony involved in the divulging of the names of the secret sisters for 1968.

Mrs. Alda Wyatt will also be on hand to urge members to take part in this year's service project, Operation Santa Claus No. 1. The goal is to collect appropriate toy sfor the children, visiting the Society for Crippled Children and Adults of San Mateo County in its Rehabilitation and Research Center in San Mateo.

Anyone wishing more information about this project is urged to call Mrs. Wyatt.

Mrs. Ronald Chiappari and Mrs. John Maquire are taking part in the sorority's holiday high jinx for the first time and showing a good deal of enthusiasm for the unit's work. Both women became members during the Ritual of Jewels held earlier this month. Mrs. Caesar Sabbatani, the Nu Sigma vice president, conducted the induction ceremonies.

LT. COL. Marianne Del Carlo has been assigned to a new post in Fort Polk, La., according to word from her sister, Mrs. Shelly Mangini.

For the past three years, Colonel Del Carlo has been assigned to the staff of Letterman General Hospital in the Presidio.

A round of party-going preceded the colonel's departure and she bid her family and friends a fond farewell during a Thanksgiving party given in her honor in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Del Carlo of Westlake.

DON'T FORGET the sale of decorations and holiday edibles on the agenda Sunday at Our Lady of Mercy Catholic Church in Westlake.

According to Mrs. Edward Avanzino of the Westlake Catholic Women, the sponsoring unit, the sale of holiday cookies, candies and decorations will be held in the parish hall, 7 Elmwood Drive, following each mass.

The sale will feature a tempting tree of ginger bread men and Santa Claus and two helper elves will be on hand to delight the small fry.

Mrs. Robert Rickert, sale chairman, and her committee have arranged to be in the parish hall on Saturday from 11 a.m. until 4 p.m. to accept donations of food or holiday bric-a-brac. Persons wishing to make a contribution do ont need to call in advance, Mrs. Avanzino stressed, as someone will be on hand continually to accept the item during those hours.

MEMBERS of the Art Guild, of Pacifica, catching their breath following the very successful Formal Show, took time out for a bit of dinner-dancing at the Princeton Inn this past weekend, according to notes from Mrs. Lillian Neathery, editor of the guild's Dirty Palette.

Next show on the schedule will be the Formal Show Winners' Exhibit to be held in the Ewald Travel Service Office in San Bruno. Eligible to exhibit will be Mrs. Zella Buckingham, Peter Hegedus, Mrs. Ruth Rosengard, Mrs. Phyllis Germaine, Mrs. Joyce Frasu, Mrs. Donna Waldren, Mrs. Louann Kielian, Luther Spraker, Mrs. Liliane Natwick, Robert Hulsebus, Joseph Lonzar, Mrs. Lynn Buchanan, Mrs. Lucy Muir, Mrs. Dorothy Young and Hermann Loger.

For Pacifica residents who feel they might enjoy the relaxation and challenge of painting, Luther Spraker will begin a series of Saturday workshop classes in oils beginning on January 11.

The sessions will be held in the Pacifica Library in Sharp Park beginning at 10 a.m. and lasting until 1 p.m.

Interested persons may get added information or may sign up for class by calling Mr. Spraker.

Lois Haley's Painting Wins Honor

A planning by Lois Haley, the artist of the month in the Daly City Public Library, was awarded second place at the recent dinner of the Burlingame Art Society.

According to Samuel Chandler, Daly City librarian, Miss Haley's work may be seen in the Coral Room of the Daly City Public Library during the month of December.

There are 33 paintings — most are still life showing flowers and fruit, a few are of scenic buildings in the San Mateo area.

A picture of the old house on East Market and Mission has been singularly noted.

For six years she studied with Carl De Simone whose paintings are known in the San Francisco area.

Sorority Unit Presents Check

Xi Lambda Sigma Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, presented a check for $100 to the Crippled Children Society and Rehabilitation Center in Burlingame.

On December 14, the chapter will attend the Allied Arts Tea at Palo Alto.

The next meeting will be December 16 at the home of Mrs. R. D. Faver, to be followed by a Christmas party.

Steve Wilmarth, a student at the University of California was a recent guest speaker on "High School and College."

Classes Reset —Busy Season

Because tf the holiday bustle, the second session of social dance classes, under the instruction of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wagner, has been re-scheduled to begin on January 7.

The classes are sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department and will be held in the multi-use room of Westlake School, 80 Fieldcrest Drive, at 7:30 p.m.

Ideas for the 'Self-Made' Gifts—Try These Cookies

NELL NORTON

(Sugar 'n Spice)

Good morning, good cooks.

Being a firm believer in the theory that the gift you make yourself is the best kind of gift, I'd like to offer some suggestions for Christmas baking and giving.

Let's start off with some cut-out cookies. These cookies are fun to bake and decorate, especially if you have your children help with this happy chore. I'll include both the ginger trees and plain sugar cookies, either or both make delicious and very pretty cookies.

GINGERBREAD TREES

2 cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon baking power
1½ teaspoons cinnamon
1 teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon nutmeg
½ cup shortening
½ cup sugar
½ cup molasses
1 egg yolk

Sift together the two cups flour, one-half teaspoon each salt and soda, one teaspoon baking powder, one and one-half teaspoons cinnamon, one teaspoon each ginger and cloves and one-half teaspoon nutmeg. Cream the one-half cup shortening and one-half cup sugar, add the one-half cup molasses and mix well. Add the one egg yolk. Gradually add the sifted dry ingredients to the creamed mixture and blend to a smooth dough. Turn out on floured board, or pastry cloth and roll out to ¼-inch thickness. Cut into desired shapes. Bake on ungreased cookie sheet eight to ten minutes in 350-degree oven. Cool rack. Makes two dozen trees.

SUGAR COOKIES

2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup margarine or butter
1 cup sugar
1 egg, unbeaten
1 tablespoon milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift together the two cups flour, one teaspoon baking powder and one-half teaspoon salt. Cream the one-half cup margarine and the one cup sugar. Beat in the one egg, one tablespoon milk and one teaspoon vanilla. Sift the dry ingredients into the creamed mixture and blend well. Place in refrigerator to chill until firm. Roll out on well floured board to one-eighth thickness. Cut with fancy cookie cutters. Bake in 375-degree oven five to seven minutes. Remove to cookie racks and cool. Decorate with tinted frosting.

DECORATORS' GLAZE

1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
3½ teaspoons water
¼ teaspoon vanilla

Blend the one cup powdered sugar with the three and one-half teaspoons water and one-fourth teaspoon vanilla in a small bowl until smooth. Add a few drops of coloring and spread on cooled cookies.

"My friend Mrs. Phyllis Cecchettini gave me this recipe for Biscotti years ago and it is a Christmas favorite with my family.

BISCOTTI

½ cup butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
3 eggs
3 cups flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon anise flavoring
1 cup almonds, chopped

Cream the one-half cup margarine, add the cup sugar gradually, cream well. Add the three eggs, one at a time, beating after each addition. Sift together the three cups flour, three teaspoons baking powder, one-half teaspoon salt. Add to creamed mixture. Stir in the one teaspoon anise flavoring and the one cup chopped almonds. (This makes a very stiff dough.) Turn out onto floured board and knead until smooth. Divide dough in half. Form into rolls the length of a cooke sheet. Place on lightly greased cookie sheet and bake in 350-degree oven for 30 minutes or until lightly browned. Remove from oven and cut into three-fourth-inch slices while hot. Lay slices cut side down on cookie sheet. Return to oven for 10 minutes to brown lightly and dry out.

IN ORDER TO GIVE your oven a chance to catch it's breath, you can make these delicious no-cook cookies.

BOOZE BALLS

1 pkg. vanilla wafers, crushed
2 tablespoons cocoa
1 cup powdered sugar
1 cup chopped walnuts
½ cup coconut
3 tablespoons corn syrup
¼ cup bourbon

Combine the vanilla wafers, two tablespoons cocoa, one cup powdered sugar, one cup chopped walnuts and one-half cup coconut. Mix well and add the three tablespoons corn syrup and one-fourth cup bourbon. Blend well. Form into balls, roll in powdered sugar. Store in covered container in refrigerator for a day or two to ripen. Makes 3½ dozen cookies.

THERE'S NO NEED to spoil your oven by lettin it rest too long, so let's heat it up again and bake these delicious bar cookies.

RAISIN TOFFEE BARS

1 cup sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup butter or margarine
1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1 teaspoons vanilla
2 eggs
2 cups bran flakes
1 cup raisins

Sift together the one cup flour and one-half teaspoon salt. Combine the one-half cup soft butter and one cup brown sugar in mixing bowl; mix thoroughly. Add the one teaspoon vanilla and two eggs, beat well. Stir in the two cups bran flakes and one cup raisins. Add the sifted dry ingredients, stir thoroughly to combine. Spread in well greased 9x9-inch pan. Bake in 350-degree oven about 30 minutes or until done. Cool in pan on rack. Frost with confectioners' icing, let stand to set. Cut into bars about 3x1½-inches. Chopped nuts, cake decorations or cocoanut may be sprinkled over icing if desired.

CONFECTIONERS' ICING

1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
1 tablespoon butter
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 to 2 tablespoons milk

Combine the one cup powdered sugar with the one tablespoon butter and the one-half teaspoon vanilla. Add enough milk to make it blend well and spread on cookies.

NO COOKIE COLLECTION would be complete without a recipe for some chocolate cookies would it? These Chocolate Crackles are delicious and attractive with crackled powdered sugar tops.

CHOCOLATE CRACKLES

4 squares unsweetened chocolate
2 cups sugar
2 teaspoons vanilla
½ cup chopped walnuts
½ cup salad oil
4 eggs, unbeaten
2 cups flour
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup powdered sugar

Melt the four squares chocolate in top of double boiler. Remore from water and blend in the two cups sugar and one-half cup oil. Add the four eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Add the two teaspoons vanilla.

Sift the two cups flour and the one-half teaspoon salt together and add to chocolate mixture. Add the one-half cup chopped nuts and mix thoroughly. Chill soft dough several hours or overnight.

Shape into small balls and roll in powdered sugar. Bake on greased cookie sheet in 350-degree oven for 10 to 12 minutes.

SINCE I'M TRYING to share with you the recipes I find so good at Christmas time, I must include these cookies. They appear each Christmas at my home and are appreciated by everyone.

ALMOND CRESCENTS

½ lb. butter
1 cup powdered sugar
2 egg yolks
1 cup chopped almonds
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 cups flour

Cream the one-half pound butter, add the cup powdered sugar and cream again. Beat the two egg yolks and add to creamed mixture. Blend well. Add the one cup chopped almonds and one teaspoon vanilla. Lastly work in the flour. I say to work in the flour because this is a rather dry dough and requires a bit of mixing and blending.

Divide dough and roll into rolls about 1½ inches around and 12 inches long. Slice three-fourth inch pieces and shape into crescents. Bake in 375-degree oven about 10 minutes. Watch, because you don't want these cookies to get brown. Remove from oven and roll in powdered sugar while still hot.

Cub Pack Sees Gridiron Action; Party Is Planned

It was a busy month for the Cubs of Pack 724.

On November 9 the boys went to San Francisco State College to see a football game, then on November 30 they were invited to Oakland Coliseum to see the San Francisco Warriors play the Milwaukee Bucks.

The Monthly pack meeting was held November 27, and inspection was won by the Webelos Squad 1.

Four new Bobcats were admitted into the pack? Ronnie and Rickey Hosea, Jerry Delozier and Steven Dieves.

Awards also were presented to Joey Burlas, Bear Badge and one year pin; Bobby Morris, Bear Badge and Webelos colors; Bill George, silver arrow; Bill Callahan, ecruiter badge and sportsman pin; John Dewey, aquanaut and athletic pins; Steven Omoto, artist pin.

Entertainment for the evening was a march by the Webelos, and Den 2 presented a Thanksgiving theme skit.

There was a knot tying contest with the Webelos winning.

The high-spot for December will be a talent show and Christmas party.

Girls Graduated In Scout Counsel Fete

Highlighting a month of Girl Scout camping experience, two South San Francisco girls, Sue Towry and Ann Geyer, were graduated as full fledged counselors and presented with a distinguishing tie and name tag recently.

These girls, along with 26 other senior scouts were selected from over 90 applicants to participate in a Counselor-in-Training program sponsored by the San Francisco Bay Girl Scout Council.

The Counselor - in - Training program is designed to teach senior scouts the fundamentals of counseling. Those who participate in the training have the opportunity to work side by side with an experienced counselor, and are instructed in child psychology and development, staff relations and behavior patterns.

The camp, held at White Meadows, 20 miles from Placerville, presented the future counselors with the practical side of running a camp, as well. The girls participated in Change-Day between sessions, and were required to work with the main camp staff. Sue, professing an interest in the infirmary, spends her program time there, learning the duties of the camp nurse. Ann was afforded the opportunity of working at the waterfront where maintenance developed as her special talent.

Completion of the Counselor-in-Training course enables Sue and Ann the privilege of counseling at any camp during the next summer. Each received an excellent rating.

Musical Program By Lincoln P-TA

Abraham Lincoln Elementary School students will present a musical program at the December 18 P-TA meeting, at 7:30 p.m., in the multi-use room of the school.

The theme, California Carols, will musically trace the many cultures that added to the traditions of Christmas celebration here in our state starting with the early Spanish settlers and the gold seeking 49'ers.

Miss Christine Petterson is in charge of the Glee Club and has selected a variety of songs.

Not only will traditional Christmas Carols be performed, but a variety of music will show how each new wave of settlers contributed to Californian holiday customs.

PIANIST Kathleen Smith and singers Kathy Kazarian, Nate Pava and Judy Jensen practice for December 18 musical program at Abe Lincoln Elementary School in Daly City. "California Carols" will be theme of event. (Post Photo.)

STUDENTS in Westmoor High School's new course, Basic Design, test-fly this giraffe "bird," one of several odd-shaped creatures in a paper mache menagerie.

THE POST'S Family Forum

Hark! It's A Giraffe With Wings!

Rarely, if ever, in nature will one find a giraffe take wing or a creature with the head of a bull, body of a turtle, and feet of a duck, but in a Westmoor art room students have created a whimsical menagerie of papier-mache creatures.

Basic Design, a new subject at Westmoor this year, differs from other forms of art in the aspect that the designer is first given a problem and then uses research and his knowledge of various basic art forms to "create" a solution.

Mrs. Aileen Kelly, instructor of the new course, gave her student designers the problem of "flight," requiring the solution in a three - dimensional creation in flight. When man first explored the subject of aviation, he turned to the feathered members of the animal kingdom, and so did Westmoor's basic designers.

The students invented a variety of winged, papier-mache creatures, contriving a rather unusual aviary, and often, as Mrs. Kelly commented, revealing their personalities.

Valerie Caime utilized soft blue and white feathers, effecting an air of femininity and delicacy. In contrast, practicality can be found in Sharon Rudolph's flight solution. Her bird's black - painted body, which stretches four feet and ends in a profusion of tissue paper, arose simply because she had those particular materials at hand.

The largest and perhaps most domineering of the birds, it is painted basic black with fringed foil adorning the wings to give a mystic, luminous effect.

Discouragement often occurred when students found the weighty papier - mache would not readily allow them to properly position the wings of their birds. Determination and experimentation in most cases, however, proved rewarding, and new insights were gained concerning the medium they had chosen to execute their projects.

Advanced journalism students, utilizing the same room occupied by the flying menagerie, have found themselves attracted to the inventive, "experimental" birds above their heads, having witnessed for the past weeks the development of stacks of newspapers, chicken wire, cardboard, and wheat paste into final painted forms. Rampage co - editor - in - chief, Marina Miram, inspired by the projects, has even considered undertaking a papier-mache project of her own.

A few students took up the project in a serious manner but generally the project appealed to the students' sense of humor, resulting in inventive, animals ranging from combinations of a giraffe, butterfly, and kangaroo to a dragon, woodchuck, and duck.

3 Infants Die – Autopsies Are Slated

Autopsies have been scheduled by the coroner's office in the deaths of three infants, two in Redwood City and one in Millbrae, who died during the weekend.

John Balfour Warner, 3-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Warner, 839 Mosswood Avenue, Millbrae, was pronounced dead on arrival at Peninsula Hospital at 10:42 p.m. Saturday after he was discovered not breathing in his crib.

In Redwood City, Rene Van Buskirk, four months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Van Buskirk, 910 Roosevelt Avenue, was pronounced dead on arrival at Sequoia Hospital at 11:40 a.m. yesterday after her mother discovered her blue and not breathing in her crib.

Mrs. Van Buskirk told investigators that the child had the flu and that she had given her some cough medicine about three hours earlier. The father is stationed with the Navy at the Alameda Naval Air Station.

Kelly Allen Brewington, 3-month-old son of Mrs. Cheryl Brewington, 3200 Fair Oaks Avenue, who had been suffering from a cold, was pronounced dead on arrival at Sequoia at 12:50 p.m. Saturday after he was discovered by his mother and grandmother Mrs. June Thomas, not breathing in his crib.

Although autopsies have not been completed, one coroner's spokesman indicated that the deaths may have been due to pneumonitis, known as "quickie pneumonia," which frequently strikes infants under the age of two years.

County Ranks Sixth in Tax On Property

Although San Mateo County ranks tenth in the state in the number of real estate transactions recorded, it ranks sixth in the amount of property transfer tax collected, Recorder Marvin Church reported.

Church attributed the higher revenue standing to two things, (1) a high degree of cooperation from citizens, attorneys, real estate personnel and title companies in administration of the tax law, and (2) the relatively high cost of property in San Mateo County.

The recorded estimated that by the end of the year the tax, which is levied at the rate of $1.10 for each $1,000 of the sale price, will have brought in $520,197, of which $217,762 will be distributed to the cities and $302,435 to the county.

Until this year the transfer tax was collected by the federal government.

Counties collecting more than San Mateo County are, in order: Los Angeles, Orange, San Diego, Santa Clara and Alameda.

Brisbane 'Snowball' Cheers Servicemen

More than 50 canisters filled with candy, playing cards, dominos and other gifts were mailed to young Brisbane servicemen Thursday in the third annual "Operation Snowball" in the city.

Begun three years ago as a project for two housewives, "Operation Snowball" has "snowballed" to such proportions that the entire business community and the city's Lions Club have joined the program.

Mrs. Betty Gwin, whose son was serving overseas three years ago, and her neighbor, Mrs. Josephine Staser, mailed homemade cookies and candy to each of the city's servicemen the first year.

During the past two holiday seasons, the Lions Club has provided funds to cover the cost of postage, and Brisbane merchants have contributed a wide variety of gifts for the program.

The packages are sent as gifts from the entire city, according to Mrs. Staser, chairman of the project, and Brisbane's official Christmas card is enclosed in each canister.

There are now 54 servicemen from Brisbane on active duty throughout the world, Mrs. Staser said.

Try Cornish Hens For a Yule Feast

Let "Cornish Hens St. Nicholas" make Christmas dinner a feast to be remembered. Roast Cornish game hens until they are tender and golden, and serve them with a heated sauce as gay-looking as a Christmas tree but much more palatable. This sauce is a combination of colorful canned fruit cocktail, fruit cocktail syrup, lemon juice, grated lemon and orange rind and white wine that complements the meat delightfully. The red maraschino cherries and green grapes in a can of fruit cocktail provide particularly appropriate colors for a Yuletide treat, and mixed with the other fruits — cling peaches, pears and pineapple — they assure delicious flavor.

Cornish Hens St. Nicholas

6 Cornish game hens
1 can (1 lb. 1 oz.) fruit cocktail
Fruit cocktail syrup
¼ cup melted butter or margarine
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ teaspoon salt
Wine Fruit Sauce

Wine Fruit Sauce

1-3 cup sugar
Fruit cocktail syrup
½ cup white dinner wine, or ½ cup orange juice
Pan drippings from hens
2 tablespoons cornstarch
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
½ teaspoon grated orange rind
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup lemon juice
Canned fruit cocktail

Cornish Hens St. Nicholas

Truss hens and place on rack in roasting pan. Drain fruit cocktail, reserving all syrup. Combine 2 tablespoons fruit cocktail, reserving all syrup. Combine 2 tablespoons fruit cocktail syrup with butter, lemon juice and salt. Spoon over hens; roast in 425-degree (hot) oven 30 to 40 minutes until tender and golden. Baste once during cooking with drippings in bottom of pan. Serve with heated Wine Fruit Sauce.

Wine Fruit Sauce: Caramelize sugar in a large heavy pan. Heat remaining fruit cocktail syrup to boiling; pour over caramelized sugar immediately, stirring constantly until sugar is completely dissolved. Blend wine, pan drippings, cornstarch, grated rinds and salt. Stir into hot syrup mixture and cook, stirring constantly until thickened and clear. Stir in lemon juice and drained fruit cocktail. Heat through.

Makes 6 servings.

Cow Digests That Newsprint

Digesting the news no longer means you are interested in the news-of-the-day, you could be a University of Pennsylvania cow. Latest research has indicated that a two-and-a-half pound newspaper dipped in molasses and supplemented with some corn silage can be nutritious feed for "Bossy."

This nutrition research on dairy animals is one of the more unusual examples of the multimillion dollar research effort of agricultural universities, government, and private business to improve agricultural products.

Try A Souffle National Egg Month

January is a happy choice for National Egg Month. With taste buds over-stimulated by too much of too many rich roasts, pies, cakes and plum puddings, the delicately flavored egg gives a welcome change of pace.

A souffle, for example, provides glamour, taste appeal and good nutrition in one eye-filling dish. No doubt you have already made souffles for company main dishes or desserts. But have you ever served individual souffles to your family as an accompaniment to give a lift to after - the - holidays menu planning?

Fried chicken all golden brown and crispy on the outside, tender and juicy inside, should be enough to tempt the most jaded appetite. But when your family gets first a glimpse and then a taste of the individual "Mashed Potato Souffles," they will really sit up and take notice. Add a few drops of mint flavoring to buttered peas, toss a green salad and serve lime sherbet for dessert. Even your critical teen-ager will eye you with new respect

Souffles are really quite easy to prepare — and using instant mashed potatoes makes the process even easier. We'll guarantee that no one can tell that you did not dig, scrub, peel and boil them yourself!

Souffles baked in a water jacket (pan of hot water) hold up better after they have been removed from the oven. If some family member is late for dinner, leave his souffle in the oven with the control turned down as low as it will go. The souffle will hold its puffiness for 15 to 30 minutes, perhaps drying out a bit towards the end.

Fried Chicken
Mashed Potato Souffles
Minted Peas
Tossed Salad Lime Sherbet

MASHED POTATO SOUFFLE

1 cup hot instant mashed potatoes
1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon milk
2 teaspoons minced onion
6 egg yolks
6 egg whites
½ teaspoon salt

Preheat oven to 325 degrees F. (slow). Set six ungreased 10-ounce baking dishes in shallow baking pan; place in oven. Pour boiling water around casseroles to depth of at least one inch; let baking dishes heat while preparing souffle.

Beat butter and milk into potatoes. Stir in onion. Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon-colored. Fold into potatoes. Add salt to egg whites; beat until stiff but not dry. Fold yolk mixture gradually into egg whites. Divide equally into heated baking dishes. Cut into souffles with spoon about one inch from side and about one inch deep, completely circling the mixture. Bake 45 to 50 minutes, or until puffy, delicately browned and a silver knife inserted in center comes out clean. Serve immediately. Makes six servings.

Serve those cooked carrots with sauteed mushrooms for an interesting vegetable dish.

Fancy-Up That Second Day Turkey

Roasted, America's great bird, the turkey, is enjoyed by everyone. But that accounts for only part of its popularity among housewives. The rest derives from the easy convertibility of leftover turkey into an endless number of second-day entrees so delicious they bring forth enthusiastic praise rather than budget-aware tolerance.

Mixtures containing diced turkey (or chicken) when used as fillings for rolled, thin pancakes, make main courses almost as gala as the roasted bird with all the fixin's. One such mixture, which extends the turkey and complements its flavor, includes Cheddar cheese, chopped celery, onion, and spinach. Serve pancakes filled with it and generously enhanced with a sauce made of canned giblet gravy, thyme, and chopped tomatoes.

No one will think you'r putting on airs when you announce your eye-appealing main course as Crepes Divan.

CREPES DIVAN WITH GIBLET GRAVY

1-3 cup chopped celery
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
⅛ teaspoon marjoram, crushed
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 package (10 ounces) frozen chopped spinach, cooked and well-drained
1½ cups diced cooked chicken
1 cup shredded sharp Cheddar cheese
8 thin pancakes (6 inches)
1 can (10½ ounces) giblet gravy
¼ cup chopped tomatoes
Generous dash leaf thyme, crushed

In saucepan, cook celery, onion, and marjoram in butter until celery is tender. Add spinach, chicken, and cheese. Heat until cheese melts; stir often. Fill each crepe with ¼ cup chicken mixture; roll up. In saucepan, combine gravy, tomatoes, and thyme. Heat; serve over crepes. Makes 4 servings.

Americans Meat Eaters

Recent government figures show that Americans last year set a brand new record in meat eating, consuming an average of 177.6 pounds. This was made up of 106.3 pounds of beef, a new high, plus 63.6 pounds of pork, 3.8 pounds of veal and 3.9 pounds of lamb.

Make A Tree of Ribbon Sandwiches

When we tried this gay offering at our house we found the sandwiches tasted as good as they looked.

The filling for these sandwiches is an excellent combination of hard-cooked eggs, cream cheese, deviled ham and mustard—just savory enough for both young and old to relish.

Once you get the hang of shaping the "tree," there's nothing to it. So if this idea appeals to you, take time to read over the recipe a couple of times; then you'll know what it's all about. Make sure, too, that you have a roomy tray on which to form the tree.

You'll find these sandwiches taste good with tea, coffee or holiday punch. If there are any sandwiches leftover, cover tightly with transparent plastic wrap and store in the refrigerator.

RIBBON SANDWICH TREE

Butter, room-temperature soft
1½ teaspoons prepared mustard
2 hard-cooked eggs, mashed
1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese, room-temperature soft
8 thin slices whole wheat bread, crusts removed
1 can (4½-ounces) deviled ham
4 thin slices white bread, crusts removed Radishes
Small pimiento-stuffed green olives
Tiny pickled cocktail onions

Cream 1 tablespoon butter and ½ teaspoon of the mustard.

Mix together eggs, cream cheese and remaining teaspoon mustard.

Spread 4 slices wheat bread with mustard-butter mixture, then with deviled ham. Spread 1 side of each white slice with plain butter and place, buttered side down, on tops of deviled ham. Spread tops of white slices with butter, then with egg mixture. Cover with remaining wheat slices.

Wrap these four stacked sandwiches in transparent plastic wrap and chill.

Cut each sandwich into 6 slices. Cut 8 slices in half to make 16 squares; cut remaining 16 slices diagonally in half to make 32 wedges. Makes 48 small sandwiches.

Arrange sandwiches on large tray—at least 15 by 10 inches—to form a tree: Use 2 layers of 2 squares side by side (4 squares) to form base; 2 layers if 6 squares in a vertical column (12 squares) to form trunk; 2 layers of 2 wedges side by side at top of trunk (4 wedges) to form point; and 2 layers of 7 wedges pointing outward, on each side of trunk (14 wedges on each side) to form boughs.

For tree ornaments, garnish tips of boughs with radish slices cut in star shapes, small stuffed olives, and cocktail onions. If you like you can insert a clove in one end of each cocktail onion.

Festive Garnish

Try these hot canned cling peach specialties as colorful, tempting garnishes for festive holiday birds. Fill peach halves with currant or mint jelly, cranberry sauce or jelly, catsup or chili sauce, chutney or piccalilli and bake or broil to heat. Canned clings take readily to heating, which enhances their luscious flavor.

Leading Counties

Grocery store survey shows that over one-fourth of the amount spent in crocery stores is for non-food items. One quarter of food dollar goes for meat, 17.9 for fruits and vegetables, and 6.9 for dairy foods.

California's ten leading agricultural counties in order of gross production are Fresno, Tulare, Kern, San Joaquin, Riverside, Imperial, Stanislaus, Monterey, Los Angeles and Merced.

Holiday Treats With a Blender

This could well be called the "blender age."

Does that pretty new blender of yours just set on the counter while you look at it and wonder just what it will do? Well, you'll never find out by looking at it Experiment!

Blenders come in all sizes and shapes; with buttons and dials and there's even a gourmet version that cooks and stirs! This one has a distinctive, wide base that is designed to handle the everyday problems of the food preoparation — as well as the more festive foods for parties and company.

Blenders will do practically everything, but there are a few chores better left to other kitchen appliances. No blender will whip egg whites as well as a mixer, or grind raw meat. No blender can extract juice from a fruit or vegetable, but it can puree that fruit or vegetable so that with the addition of a liquid, a tasty beverage is made.

What will a blender do? It will make a delicious dip, creamy, fast and easy. It will smooth out the turkey gravey or chop up the giblets or crumb the bread for the turkey stuffing. It will turn out perfect cream sauces for vegetables, make baby foods or turn leftovers into creamy soups. And of course, a blender will chop nuts for cookies and candies, fruits for puddings, vegetables for salads. For best results, alway sfollow the manufacturer's instructions.

Put your blender to work this Christmas. To start you thinking of new and different uses fo your blender, try this easy recipe for chocolate fudge, for those with blenders that use or can stand heat:

CHOCOLATE FUDGE

1-3 cup butter
½ cup light corn syrup
½ cup granulated sugar
2 (1 oz.) unsweetened choclate squares
1 pound confectioner's sugar
½ cup instant non-fat dry milk solids
1½ teaspoons vanilla
1 cup walnuts

Combine butter, corn syrup, granulated sugar and chocolate in small sauce pan. Cook over low heat until mixture begins to boil, stirring constantly. Boil one minute. Pour into blender. Cover and begin blending on medium speed. Remove measuring cup and gradually add confectioner's sugar and dry milk solids. Immediately pour into a greased 8-inch square pan. Cool before cutting.

Another holiday treat can be easily prepared in any blender by this simple recipe:

HOLIDAY COOKIES

1½ cups pecans
1 cup soft butter
A few drops red food coloring
½ cup sifted confectioner's sugar
1½ teaspoons vanilla
2¼ cups sifted all purpose flour
¼ teaspoon salt

Place nuts in blender. Chop very fine. Mix butter, sugar, vanilla and food coloring. Add flour and salt. Stir in pecans. Chill. Roll into one inch balls and place on an ungreased cookie sheet. Bake 10 to 12 minutes at 400 degrees. While still warm, roll in confectioner's sugar.

Polynesian Sandwich, Kabob Style

Polynesian cookery inspired petite dietitian, Anne Clark, to create a ham-pineapple kabob-style sandwich as her entry for this year's sandwich contest. Her Sub-Tiki is one of the meat category winners.

Colorful smoked ham, sliced and cut into cubes, is threaded on skewers. Pineapple chunks, tomato wedges and a basting sauce of honey, soy sauce, ginger and garlic contribute to this novel combination.

THE SUB-TIKI

1½ pounds smoked ham, sliced ¾-inch thick
1 can (1 pound 4 ounces) pineapple chunks, drained
2 tomatoes, each cut into 6 wedges
1-3 cup soy sauce
¼ cup honey
½ teaspoon ground ginger
1 garlic clove, minced
6 enriched large size crusty sandwich rolls
Butter
6 lettuce leaves
6 tablespoons finely chopped peanuts

Cut ham into 24 cubes. Alternate ham cubes, pineapple chunks and tomato wedges on 6 skewers. Mix soy sauce, honey, ginger and garlic and brush on kabobs. Broil kabobs 4 inches from heat 3 minutes. Turn, brush with sauce and broil 3 minutes longer or until edges begin to brown. Cut rolls length-wise almost through and butter. Arrange lettuce on each. Top with broiled kabob, remove skewer. Sprinkle each with 1 tablespoon finely chopped peanuts. Serve hot. 6 sandwiches.

Decorate A Salmon for Christmas with Flair

Clever hostesses, noted for their hospitality and successful entertaining, serve food with a flair. Many have built reputations as culinary experts with one or two outstanding recipes.

Put your best fish forward. Let the holiday season be your reason for serving Festive Glazed Salmon. A whole glazed salmon offers a dramatic approach to a buffet, and it is good cooking as well as good eating. The preparation of this specialty, from the United States Department of the Interior's Bureau of Commercial Fisheries, is planned so that a minimal effort is required in the final stages before serving. Festive Glazed Salmon, developed by Bureau Home Economists, is a recipe to cherish for special occasions.

Would you like additional salmon information and recipes? Write to the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402. Enclose your name, address, and 20 cents and ask for How To Cook Salmon, No. 1 49 39:4.

FESTIVE GLAZED SALMON

- 3 or 4 pound dressed salmon or other dressed fish, fresh or frozen
- Court Bouillon
- Seasoned Aspic Glaze
- Decorations — lemon and lime slices, pimiento, and olives
- Clear Glaze
- Bibb lettuce
- Mayonnaise or salad dressing

Thaw frozen fish. Clean and wash fish. Place on a rack in a 20-inch fish poaching pan. Pour cool Court Bouillon over fish. Cover and simmer 20 to 30 minutes or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Remove fish immediately. Leaving the head and tail intact, carefully skin the fish. Also, the grey-fatty flesh should be removed to reveal the pink flesh. Place fish on a large serving platter. Chill thoroughly.

To glaze fish, pour slightly thickened Seasoned Aspic Glaze evenly over the entire fish. Chill. Continue glazing and chilling until you have built up an even clear ⅛ inch of glaze. Chill thoroughly. Remove glaze from platter.

To decorate fish, place a border of lemon and lime slices around fish. Decorate the top of the fish using pimiento and olives. Chill again. Pour slightly thickened Clear Glaze over the entire fish. Chill throughly. Remove glaze from platter and garnish with Bibb lettuce. Chill until serving time. Serve with mayonnaise. Makes approximately 24 to 32 servings.

Court Bouillon

- 2 quarts water
- 2 cups sliced celery
- 1½ cups sliced onion
- 1 cup sliced carrot
- ½ cup vinegar
- 2 tablespoons salt
- 8 peppercorns
- 4 lemon slices
- 3 parsley sprigs
- 2 bay leaves
- ½ teaspoon whole thyme
- 2 tablespoons salt

Combine all ingredients in a 4-quart saucepan. Simmer, uncovered, for 45 minutes. Strain. Cool. Makes approximately 1¼ quarts bouillon.

SEASONED ASPIC GLAZE

- 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
- ½ cup water
- 2 cups boiling condensed clear chicken broth
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice

Soften gelatin in cold water. Dissolve gelatin in boiling broth. Add lemon juice. Chill until slightly thickened. Makes approximately 2½ cups glaze.

CLEAR GLAZE

- 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
- ¼ cup water
- ¾ cup boiling water

Soften gelatin in cold water. Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Chill until slightly thickened. Makes approximately 1 cup glaze.

Predictions For Year 2,000

Summing-up some of the current predictions for the year 2000, one pundit predicts: an $80 man's suit will cost $270, a man's haircut may cost $10, an average automobile will cost a little under $10 thousand and an average-sized home will cost around $125 thousand. The average salary with fringe benefits will be around $36 thousand.

What about the grocery bill? Food prices would probably tag along with other goods and services, but the percentage of after-tax income could be less,

Meat Loaf Tempting With Filling

Meat loaf, that popular standby for convenient, economical meals, risks becoming "the same old thing" when served frequently. How do you do meat loaf to give exciting new interest and flavor appeal to this family favorite?

A colorful, taste tempting rolled meat loaf is one answer. Imagine a juicy, seasoned ground beef mixture rolled around a succulent filling of thyme and green pepper seasoned corn, topped with golden cheese squares and rich, smooth tomato sauce! Sound intricate and tricky?

Canned condensed tomato soup, that double rich, expertly seasoned soup that performs so many wonders as a cooking ingredient, is the flavor secret of this loaf. Part of the soup goes into the ground beef mixture, along with egg, onion, and bread crumbs, imparting moistness and extra goodness. The remaining soup is heated and blended with the meat loaf drippings to serve as a perfect spoon-on sauce.

The technique for making the loaf into a firm roll is easy . . . a waxed paper square helps achieve the neat and tidy finale.

Accompany rolled meat loaf with a crispy green salad, robust French bread, and baked apples with a cinnamon glaze for dessert.

ROLLED MEAT LOAF

- ¼ cup minced green pepper
- ¼ teaspoon ground thyme
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 cup cooked corn
- 1 can (10¾ ounces) condensed tomato soup
- 1½ pounds ground beef
- ½ cup fine dry bread crumbs
- ¼ cup minced onion
- 1 egg, slightly beaten
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 4 slices (4 ounces) mild process cheese
- 2 tablespoons water
- Drippings

In saucepan, cook green pepper with thyme in butter; stir in corn. Meanwhile, combine ½ cup soup, beef, crumbs, onion, egg, and salt. Mix thoroughly. On waxed paper, pat into a 12x9-inch piece. Spread corn mixture to within 1-inch of all edges; pat into meat. With aid of waxed paper, roll meat tightly jelly-roll fashion starting at long edge. Seal ends; use waxed paper to transfer to baking dish. Bake at 350 degrees F. for 50 minutes. Top loaf with cheese; bake 5 minutes more. Combine remaining soup with water and drippings. Heat; serve with loaf. Makes 6 servings.

Marinade Is Confusing

One word which seems to cause high confusion is marinade. This is simply a seasoned, acid mixture, with or without oil, in which meats, cooked or uncooked, vegetables, and occasionally, fruit are allowed to stand. It gives flavor to foods; it may help tenderize meat if there's enough acid in it (lemon juice or vinegar).

Marinade is the acid mixture. If you are using the mixture, you are "marinating."

Italian Christmas Treat You'll Enjoy

DEAR CECILY:

I have been trying to find a recipe for a dessert that is an Italian Christmas treat. It's called Strufoli with honey. Can you help me?—HOLIDAY CHEER.

DEAR HOLIDAY CHEER:

Here's the recipe. I understand that Americans of Sicilian background are particularly fond of this dessert and liket o keep it on hand during the Christmas holiday so that visitors can break off a piece for munching. Be sure to have a pile of paper napkins beside the Strufoli because the honey coating is delicious but sticky. When we tested the recipe we had so many willing tasters that we managed to keep our Strufoli with honey only overnight. You may be interested to know that the nuggets of dough stayed crisp but the coating got a little stickier on the second day—C. B.

STRUFOLI WITH HONEY

1¾ cups unsifted flour
¼ teaspoon salt
3 large eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups peanut oil
½ cup sugar
½ cup mild-flavored honey
Colored sprinkles

In a medium mixing bowl stir together the flour and salt. Add unbeaten eggs and vanilla; stir to blend into a soft dough.

Cut off about one-sixth of the dough and place on a prepared pastry cloth. With your palms, work it into a long roll about ½-inch in diameter. Cut the roll crosswise into ½-inch pieces. Repeat process with remaining dough.

In a deep saucepan (at least one-quart) heat the peanut oil to 375 degrees. Without crowding, add small batches of the dough and stir constantly with a wooden spoon so that the Strufoli brown lightly and evenly—a few minutes for each batch. Remove with a perforated spoon; drain on several thicknesses of paper toweling. Cool.

Choose a saucepan or saucepot roomy enough to hold all the fried Strufoli at one time. Turn the sugar and honey into it. Over low heat stir until sugar is dissolved. Add the Strufoli and stir until all are well coated. Remove to a serving dish and shape into a mound. Sprinkle with colored sprinkles.

In serving, use two forks to separate into pieces. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Note: You may use a basket, if you like, in frying the Strufoli. In this case shake the basket often and stir the Strufoli often, too, with a wooden spoon.

Tasty Dip, Spreads For Holiday Parties

Preparing appetizers that pique the palate and look exciting too, is the formula for launching a party successfully.

Here are canape and dip suggestions from A.1. Sauce Co. home economists that should be conversation pieces at your holiday party.

STUFFED MUSHROOMS

12 large mushrooms
1 tbsp. minced onion
¼ cup butter
¼ tsp. salt
1 cup soft bread crumbs
¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese
3 tbsp. chopped walnuts
1 tbsp. A.1. Sauce
1 tbsp. water

Clean mushrooms, remove stems and chop. Saute onions and chopped stems in butter, until onions are golden. Mix sauteed onions and mushrooms with salt, crumbs, cheese, walnuts and A.1. Sauce. Stuff mushroom caps with this mixture, and place in shallow baking dish. Add water to pan. Bake in hot oven (400 deg. F) for 20-25 minutes until nicely browned.

BEAN DIP

2½ cups cooked lima beans
2 tbsp. A.1. Sauce
⅓ cup mayonnaise
1 tbsp. chopped scallion

Mash beans well with fork. Add remaining ingredients and blend to a paste consistency. Refrigerate, covered until ready to serve. Serve on crackers.

BROILED CRAB MEAT SANDWICHES

1 6½ oz. can (1 cup) crab meat
¼ cup mayonnaise
1 tbsp. A.1. Sauce
6 bread slices (lightly toasted)
6 slices American cheese.

Mix together crab meat, mayonnaise, A.1. Sauce. Spread on bread slices. Top each open sandwich with slice of American cheese. Place under broiler until cheese is golden brown.

'Y' Wives In Sugar Plum Exhibition

The Y-Wives of the Mid-Peninsula YWCA are having a baking lessons for Sugar Plum Bread, Thursday, December 12th. The demonstration will be at the YWCA, 4161 Alma Street, Palo Alto, from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.

Mrs. Kay Arevalo will be giving the demonstration. Here is her recipe:

2 pks. active dry yeast
⅓ cup water
1 cup milk
½ cup sugar
¼ cup shortening
5 to 5½ cups flour
1½ tsp. salt
2 beaten eggs
½ tsp. Vanilla
¼ tsp. Nutmeg
1 cup seedless raisins
½ cup chopped mixed fruits and peels

Combine scalded milk, sugar, shortening, salt, and cool to luke warm.

While cooling, soften yeast in 1-3 cup warm water.

Stir approx. 1½ cups of the flour with milk, sugar, shortening. Beat vigorously.

Stir in yeast softened in 1-3 cup warm water.

Add fruit, peels, and raisins.

Add enough remaining flour to make soft dough. Turn out dough on well floured surface. Knead into smooth and elastic mass (approx. 6-8 min.)

Place in lightly greased bowl, turn once to grease entire surface. Cover, let rise in warm place until doubled (about 2 hours); punch down and divide dough in half. Cover dough and let it rest 10 minutes. Shape into two balls; place on greased baking sheets and flatten top slightly.

Cover, put in warm place, let double (about 2 hours); bake in moderate oven 350 degrees, about 30 minutes.

Confectioners Icing: Add sufficient milk or cream to 2 cups of Confectioners sugar, to make a spreading consistency. Add 1 teasp. Vanilla and a dash of salt. Mix well. Frost when Bread is still slightly warm. Frost top only and allow to run down sides. Decorate with candied cherries and green peel to give wreath-like effect.

Meat Spending Under 5 Per Cent

Today, annual meat expenditures for a family of five take less than five per cent of total disposable income, for which they can purchase 885 pounds of meat, 250 pounds more than in 1938. And in 1938, meat purchases took a larger percentage of annual income.

A survey among men in the Army indicates milk rates as the "best liked" food in military mess halls. Number two on the list is steak.

Westside Baptist Church Plans Musicale on Sunday

At the 7 p.m. Sunday Family Fellowship Gospel Hour of the Westside Baptist Church, the music committee of the church is sponsoring a musicale.

The service will begin with singing of Christmas carols, then special numbers will be presented by the Male Quartette, Ladies Trio, Vocal Duet, Solo, and Brass Ensemble. Mrs. Roy King will preside at the console of the Baldwin organ.

Sunday at 6:15 p.m., Primary GMG will meet. Also at this hour Junior Jet-Cadets: Junior High and Senior High CYF groups meet.

"Just Believe It" is to be the sermon topic for the 11 a.m. worship. This is to be another message in a series on Chrian committment. Special music will be a tenor solo by Bill DeLung.

During the adult worship hour, a primary church service is to be conducted for boys and girs four through seven years of age.

Also, a nursery is maintained for babies and toddlers.

At 9:45 a.m. is the "Church at Study."

With 14 classes to meet the needs of all age groups, the whole family is urged to attend. Several of the departments of the Sunday School will be meeting in the auditorium during class period, to rehearse for the coming Sunday School Christmas program.

Pastor A. David Donnelly will be meeting with those interested in affiliation with the church. This Pastor's Class is also for those who desire to know what the Church teaches.

On December 17, at 7 p.m., the Junior High GMG will meet at the home of Mrs. Barbara DeLung, 18 Eastridge Circle in Fairmont.

On December 14, Men's Prayer Fellowship will convene at 8 a.m. at the church parsonage, 3370 Longview Drive, San Bruno.

Today at 7:30 p.m., prayer and Bible Study hour will be held at 3370 Longview Drive.

Westside Baptist Church holds its Sunday services at the San Andreas School auditorium, Inverness Drive and Hickey Boulevard, Pacifica.

Pacifica 'Witness' Will Be Speaker

Larry DeLorenzi, assistant presiding minister of the Pacifica Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, has been named as one of the speakers on the program of their semi-annual circuit assembly to be held at the Winterland Arena in San Francisco, December 20-22.

DeLorenzi will address the third session on the theme, "Searching Out Deserving Ones."

Appearing with DeLorenzi to demonstrate methods of making house-to-house calls will be several members of the local congregation. Fred Featherstone Jr., student minister from Linda Mar, will give a talk on the model ministry school.

Alvyn L. Franck, district supervisor from Brooklyn, N.Y., will deliver the keynote address at the opening session talking on the convention theme, "Sharing Fully in Preaching the Good News."

He will then preside as chairman of the model ministry school which features a program for training in platform speaking and home Bible study work. This school is the same as one conducted weekly in all congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses.

Highlight of the program at the second session will be the water baptism of new ministers.

Main session of the conference will be the free public Bible lecture by Franck on December 22, at 3 p.m., on the subject, "God's Way Is Love."

The Times...

Your Link To San Mateo County

Wherever You Live In San Mateo County, a Local Office of The Times-Post Is Always Nearby to Serve You

No wonder The Times and The Post are the "hometown" papers in a dozen Peninsula cities, spreading from Redwood City in the south to Daly City in the north.

No other newspapers stay as close to their readers as The Times and The Post.

A total of four different offices offer all the services that make The Times-Post the local newspaper in so many important ways: • Social Announcements • Classified Advertising • News • Subscriptions • Legal Advertising • Information • Commercial Printing.

You can go to any of The Times-Post local offices and count on "hometown" service. Or you can always phone any of the convenient local offices.

The Times – Northern California's largest suburban daily newspaper – and The Post – San Mateo County's largest weekly newspaper – have gotten big by caring about their local customers.

"CHILD'S DREAM SWEEPSTAKES" — Six-year-old Theresa Rishel of Hayward (top photo) gathered $341 worth of toys last week at Montgomery Ward's Serramonte store as part of "Child's Dream Sweepstakes." David Garca, 7, of Santa Clara, (below) accumulated almost the same value in merchandise in half the time. Shown with each youngster is McDonald's family drive-in clown, Ronald McDonald. (Post Photo)

Youngsters In Ward's 'Haulaway!'

The toy department of Montgomery Ward's new store in Daly City's Serramonte Shopping Center was a lively scene last Thursday morning as two Bay Area youngsters were turned loose to select all the toys they could carry to the check-out counter in a given time.

The shopping sprees were grand prizes for the "Child's Dream Sweepstakes", a contest involving an estimated 100,000 children sponsored by Bay Region McDonald's family drive-ins and Montgomery Ward stores.

Winners were given the opportunity to roam the department and grab whatever toys and games they wanted for timed periods of ten and five minutes each.

Although no direct assistance was permitted, McDonald's arranged for their popular TV clown, Ronald McDonald, to keep the youngsters moving whenever they became overly engrossed in any single toy or game as the timeclock ticked away.

First prize winner, six-year-old Theresa Rishel of Hayward pushed, hauled and carried over $341 worth of toys to the counter in her allotted ten minutes. Dominated by a gleaming new bicycle, her pile of goodies measured nearly eight feet in diameter.

Second prize winner, David Garcia, 7, of Santa Clara, used his allotted five minutes to accumulate almost the same value of merchandise in half the time.

His most valuable prize, a mammoth road race set, will be shared with two older brothers who assisted in filling in David's entry blank at their local Santa Clara McDonald's.

Kaiser Strike Vote Sought

Hospital Workers Union Local 250 has rejected, 1055-333, a package offer by the Kaiser hospitals and clinics of Northern California, it announced.

It now plans to ask for strike sanction from the Alameda Labor Council and various other councils involved, a spokesman said.

The union, representing workers in Redwood City'South San Francisco and 12 other Kaiser hospitals and 16 other clinics, voted November 25 in Redwood City and San Francisco.

Other votes were taken in San Jose, Oakland, San Rafael, Vallejo and Concord. About 3,000 hospital workers are affected.

The union had asked for a 50-cents-an-hour across-the-board pay increase, with the exception of X-ray and laboratory technicians, who asked a 15 per cent increase.

The company package which was rejected would have raised such categories as nursing aides, LVN's, orderlies and housekeepers by 15 cents an hour now; 7 cents more in July and 13 cents next November.

Guns and Credit Cards Stolen

An assortment of credit cards, $180 in cash and five handguns were stolen from the Arlene Calvillo home at 875 Hanover Street on Friday, Daly City police report.

Entry to the residence has not been determined and the matter is still under investigation, a spokesman said.

"WE BECAME SUCCESSFUL . . . SO CAN YOU!"

"I entered the field of investment real estate with California City Realty Company in November 1967 through the insistence of Mr. Howard, District Manager. I completed the Real Estate Law and Sales Training courses with California City in January, 1968. In March 1968, I entered Management training at the San Mateo office, and on December 1, 1968 I advanced to Branch Manager of the San Mateo Office. I have a son to support, and needed a career where I could set my own pay scale. This past year has been the happiest and most rewarding of my life."

Dorothy Pederson
Former Examiner advertising representative now Branch Manager of the San Mateo Office of The California City Realty Company.

"Although only being 26 years of age, California City Realty has given me an opportunity for advancement and success I could not find elsewhere. I began as a part-time salesman in May 1968 after completing the sales training program, and found the financial rewards and excitement of the profession high above my expectations. After only three months I chose to leave my full time employment in order to work full time in the San Francisco Office as a Management Trainee. Within three months, I was promoted to Assistant Manager in the San Mateo Office. California City has given to me and my family, a new way of life, one that we enjoy thoroughly."

Lynn A Worthington
Former Assistant to the Operations Manager, Crown Zellerbach Corporation.
